Teri Spence, 13, eighth grader at Sleepy Hollow School, holds one of the two rats with which she conducted tests on the stunting of growth by nicotine to win a first place in the school's Science Fair. Weight of the "non-nicotine" rat at the end of 24 days was 234 grams; the other, 195 grams. Paul Sagues, 13, seventh grader (left) received a first place for his model of a fresh water distillation plant. The fair will be open to the public tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. (Independent-Journal photo)

IN LARKSPUR

John Glenn Park Fades

Larkspur's proposed new 42-acre park next to Henry C. Hall School may not be named after astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. after all.

"I see no connection with John Glenn except it happened the same night," declared city Councilman Daniel Allen last night. "I think we ought to name it after some local person."

The Larkspur Recreation Commission, which met on Feb. 20, the same day that the Marin Corps colonel went into orbit, suggested the new park be named for Glenn.

City councilmen last night decided to table the matter of naming the park. The recreation commission's request for $1,500 to get professional help for the planning of the park was also tabled. The request will be taken up during budget discussions.

The new park is proposed in the area where the county dump is now located. About three acres have been filled. A yacht harbor and park are envisaged in the area.

House Group Approves Point Reyes Seashore

Bill Would Exclude Dairy, Ranch Lands

A 53-000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore was approved today by the House subcommittee on national parks in Washington, D.C.

A Senate-passed bill to authorize acquisition of the property was adopted by an unanimous vote, the Associated Press reported.

The bill would exclude from government purchase for the area 26,000 acres in dairy and beef cattle ranches individually exceeding 500 acres. Also excluded were 3,000 acres owned by Vedanta Society of Northern California, International Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Radio Corp. of America.

Approximately 21 owners of residential property who started building homes prior to Sept. 1, 1959, would be given life estates.

The subcommittee struck out a provision in the Senate bill giving special occupancy rights to property owners in the Duck Cove subdivision.

The bill contains a 14 million dollar limit on federal expenditures, although additional property valued at about 9 million dollars is expected to be acquired by exchange for other federal land.

'HOT DIGGITY'

Word of the bill's emergence from committee brought an exclamation of "hot diggity!" from Peter H. Behr, the national seashore's prime advocate on the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

"I believe creation of the seashore will be a permanent boon to Marin County and to the entire country," said Behr. "Certianly it will in time reduce our property taxes."

No such pleasure was expressed by Bryan J. McCarthy, San Rafael attorney who has fought the measure on behalf of West Marin ranchers.

McCarthy said that unless the bill has been changed to include a provision that the National Park Service must buy land from those ranchers who want to sell, his clients will continue to fight it.

PASSED BY SENATE

As passed by the Senate—and presumably as reported out of the House subcommittee—the bill gives the excluded ranchers only the right to continue ranching or to sell their lands for ranch use. It does not require that the government will buy the lands if they are offered.

MOB ATTACKS U.S. HQ IN DOMINICAN

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — A street mob of more than 1,000 youths attacked the U.S. Embassy's downtown offices today, smashing and burning three cars.

Embassy guards pulled down steel shutters over doors and windows to keep the mob from storming the building. The youths then smashed, turned over and set fire to three embassy cars, including the personal limousine of Ambassador John Bartlow Martin.

Simultaneous disorders broke out in Independence Square where police threw tear gas bombs to break up mobs on a looting spree. There was no immediate report of casualties.

The demonstrations, apparently spontaneous, were in protest against government action in permitting ex-president Joaquin Balaguer and former army chief Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria to flee the country.

Legislature Gets Measure On Bay Transit

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A bill to extend the deadline for county withdrawal from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District after it disapproves a transit plan was introduced in the state legislature today.

William T. Bagley, Marin-Sonoma assemblyman, introduced a bill to extend from six to 12 months the time in which a county may accept a proposed plan or get out of the transit district.

The proposal is aimed at extending the deadline for Marin County. Marin supervisors disapproved the proposed four-county transit system because it includes no service for Marin. The deadline for withdrawal is late next month, attorneys say, even though the four-county plan was withdrawn by the district after San Mateo County disapproved it and announced it will leave the district.

Marin's supervisors had suggested the extension so the county's decision could be held up until after the current study of Golden Gate Bridge strength is concluded.

Bagley also is preparing a bill which will put the extension of day light savings time from September to October.

Weather Forecast Is For Mostly Fair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mostly fair weather is forecast through tomorrow in most of Northern and Central California.

There may be a few showers in the extreme north with snow flurries in the mountains tonight.

Rogers Called 'Moral Man' Nagged By Wife's Infidelity

Robert Burdett Rogers was a "moral man," who was provoked by his wife's infidelity and shocked by her "violent diatribe" in language worse than those of "Tropic of Cancer," defense attorney George T. Davis declared today in his final argument.

Rogers, 43, is on trial for the second time, on a charge of murder of his wife Bertie, 35, in a San Rafael home in 1959.

Defense lawyer Davis opened his final argument yesterday and had talked to the jury for six hours by noon today. The end was not yet in sight.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, who had hoped the case could go to the jury today, reminded Davis that he wants the jury to begin deliberating tomorrow morning.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety still has his closing argument to present before the jury of nine women and three men goes into deliberations.

Davis carefully picked away at the testimony of San Rafael police officers and prosecution witnesses who said they heard Rogers use threatening words before the fatal shooting of Aug. 7, 1959.

Davis contended that in the first trial, held in 1959, Rogers was told by his first attorney (not Davis) to "just play it down; it was an accident."

"He is the one who filed the appeal," Davis shouted to the jury. "He filed the appeal because he wanted to tell the truth."

Davis reminded the jurors that what Rogers told was a story of a man almost driven out of his mind by his wife's affairs with another man, and her flat rejection of him as "no - - - - good as a lover."

Woman Tells Of Undercover Work In State

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A real estate woman says she was enlisted by an undercover group to work as an unofficial informer for the California National Guard Reserve.

Mrs. Helen Wysong said she was given a code name and promised training in the use of firearms—but was never given anything to do.

Mrs. Wysong, 50, said she became suspicious of the group and informed the FBI what she knew of its activities. She gave the details yesterday to the Los Angeles Times.

National Guard authorities in Sacramento said there was no authorization for such a network of informants.

Maj. Dana Robert Backus, commander of the First Battalion of the California National Guard Reserve, was identified by Mrs. Wysong as the organizer.

He told the Times he tried to build the network as "a group of individuals strategically placed in industry and elsewhere who might have access to certain bits of information which would aid the military in performing its work in case of disaster."

He said he undertook the project on his own, without consulting his superiors. He said that the project was never completely organized.

Mrs. Wysong said she was invited to join the group by a minister who told her it was an anti-Communist group. She said she was told later that it was gathering information about the Minutemen, a militia-like volunteer group, and the Muslims, a radical Negro group.

Mrs. Kennedy Starts Her Good Will Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy left today on the first lap of her good will trip to India and Pakistan with an affectionate wave of good bye from her husband.

President John F. Kennedy escorted his smiling 32-year-old wife aboard the Caroline and then stood by his White House limousine as the door of the plane closed. She will be gone about three weeks.

The first lady wore a somali leopard coat and a small black pillbox hat on her reddish tint hair.

At the head of the ramp, she turned to smile and wave "good-bye" to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartlett and their two children, close friends of the Kennedys.

Bartlett, a correspondent for the Chattanooga Times, introduced the Kennedys to each other.

The bareheaded chief executive, wearing a navy blue striped suit, waved at his wife. She returned the wave from the plane window, a happy smile on her face.

Mrs. Kennedy had said goodbye at the White House to her two children.

The first leg of the trip took Mrs. Kennedy to New York where she will remain overnight. She will depart for Rome tomorrow.

Cepeda Signs For $46,000

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Orlando Cepeda came to terms today with the San Francisco Giants on his baseball contract for a reported $46,000.

The slugging first baseman who led the National League last year with 46 home runs and 142 runs-batted-in sent a wire from his Puerto Rico home to club Vice President Chub Feeney saying he would report for spring training Monday.

Feeney indicated Cepeda accepted slightly more than $45,000.

Asked if that was $47,500, Feeney said, "No, it was less than that."

Cepeda made $30,000 in 1961.

The badge he had worn for 20 years as a Fairfax police officer was formally presented to recently retired Police Chief Clifton C. Cordes last night.

Capt. Henry Vanderheide made the presentation during a dinner given for Cordes by members of the police department at the home of Sgt. Charles Grasso at 14 Cascade Drive, Fairfax.

Inscribed on the back "To Chief Clifton Cordes, presented by members of the Fairfax Police Department," the badge had been gilded and a banner with the word "retired" added to the face.

14 Marin Agencies Get $221,170 Fund Money

Appropriation of $221,170 to 14 Marin County agencies was announced today by the joint United Fund and United Community Fund of San Francisco.

Additional to this, appropriations go to seven agencies serving Marin County and four other counties of the area. These, previously announced, make part of a total list aggregating $4,200,100 which go to 90 United Crusade-supported health, welfare and youth agencies in Marin andl San Francisco counties.

Marin recipients with amounts are:

Boy Scouts, $49,354; Camp Fire Girls, $19,500; Catholic Social Service, $22,552; Catholic Youth, $13,260; Family Service Agency, $35,125; Girl Scouts, $20,875; Legal Aid Society, $1,674; Marin Aid to Retaarded Children, $900; Marin Council of Community Services, $16,058; Marin Jewish Community Center, $6,920; St. Vincent's School for Boys, $8,018; Sunny Hills, $6,134; YMCA, $14,550; YWCA, $6,500.

Marin and San Francisco funds have been budgeted together for the last three years whereas Alameda, Contra Costa and San Mateo Counties budget and allocate separately.

David J. McDaniel, chairman of the joint Marin-San Francisco committee, said the distribution represents the counties' shares in the 11 million dollar campaign of United Bay Area Crusade.

He said the total distributed for use starting March 1 is 2.5 per cent higher than what was distributed to Marin and San Francisco last year.

Judges File For Election

There were no surprise aspirants among the 10 candidates who took out papers since yesterday noon to run in the June primary election.

Superior Court Judges Richard M. Sims Jr. and Thomas F. Keating took out nomination papers for circulation. So did Supervisor William Gnoss of North Marin, Auditor Leon A. deLisle, and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

Thomas F. Elliott, a life insurance agent of 230 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, announced he's running for the Marin Municipal Water District post in Division 1 held by Dr. Leo L. Stanley.

Aspirants for Democratic Central Committee are George P. DeTuncq of 82 Grove Lane, Novato, a teacher, seeking a post in the fifth district, and William B. Wolfson, Ross attorney, for the second district.

Seeking posts on the Republican Central Committee are Edmond G. Ward, attorney of 443 Calle De La Mesa, Novato, and Edwin V. Grundstrom, attorney, 96 Orchard Way, Novato, both for district 5.

IF WEATHER IS RIGHT

Marin City's Old Duplexes May Get Torch Tomorrow

A meteorologist wil launch a weather balloon 4,000 feet over Marin City early tomorrow — to see if the wind is right for burning 27 old wooden duplexes.

The scientific wind determination is the brainchild of the Bay Area Air pollution Control Board which ruled the buildings can be burned one at a time, and only if the wind is blowing directly toward the Farrallon Islands.

If the meteorologist gives the nod, Assistant Marin County Fire Chief Louis Bloom will order his fire laddies to fire the shacks at 8 a.m.

13 Die In Italy Train Wreck

CASTELBOLOGNESE, Italy (UPI)—A speeding express train jumped the tracks in this central Italian town today, killing at least 13 persons and injuring more than 100.

Hospitals in the area reported that some of the injured were in serious condition and feared the death toll would rise.

Judicial authorities ordered the arrest of the train's conductor, engineer and assistant engineer; all of whom were injured. The Italian news agency Ansa said they were being held for their "presumed responsibility" for the crash.

Telephone Aids In Birth

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (AP)—Donna Kerns, 30, of Charleston, gave birth to an 8-pound, 9-ounce boy yesterday after listening for an hour and a half to a soothing telephone voice saying, "Relax, you are going into a deep sleep."

Kerns

It was the voice of a doctor putting her under hypnosis.

Mrs. Kerns was under hypnosis when her first child was born in 1960, but a doctor was at her side. Yesterday Mrs. Kerns said she was completely conscious throughout the birth and was in an utterly relaxed world.

The incident occurred after her doctor's car became stuck in snow and could not make it to the hospital.

Could Have Been Stinging Situation

SANTA MONICA (AP)—While Stan F. McCreadie, a California highway patrolman was in a telephone booth calling his office, a swarm of bees followed their queen onto his motorcycle seat.

McCreadie considered starting up his motor and vibrating the bees loose but discretion forced abandonment of that idea.

Along came a man who offered to remove the bees if he could keep them. McCreadie agreed, readily, so the stranger went into a nearby store and returned with a jar of honey, a cardboard box and a stick. He enticed the queen bee into the box and the others followed obediently.

McCreadie and his unidentified benefactor went away happily.

The visiting blonde wandered too close to a restricted area around the marble tomb in the snowy shadow of the Kremlin's walls.

A Soviet policeman turned her away from the off limits area.

The tomb of the father of the Soviet Union was opened to the public this morning for the first time in six weeks. Besides Miss Novak, a long line of Russian tourists waited in a blustery snowstorm to file past Lenin's body.

Traffic On Echo Summit Open Again

PLACERVILLE (AP)—Traffic is moving again across Echo Summit in the Sierra after a National Guard artillery barrage brought down an avalanche-threatening snow cornice hanging above U.S. Highway 50.

When the shells pounded the cornice loose yesterday, two snow slides swept across the highway near the Sierra Ski Ranch about 45 miles east of Placerville. The slides piled snow about three feet deep over the transcontinental road.

JFK Says Economy Healthy; Gets Steel Talks On Again

Asserts Congress Action, Not Pace Is Important

PRESIDENT KENNEDY
At news conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy says the U. S. economy is healthier than some of its gloomy skeptics. He's also given Congress a sharp and obvious nudge to pass legislation he believes will keep it that way.

Kennedy, at a news conference yesterday, announced a personal move to return steel industry negotiators to the bargaining table in an effort to eliminate one threat to economic recovery—a steel strike.

He made public a message to company executives and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, urging them to renew contract talks by next Wednesday. Both sides agreed to [illegible].

Viewing the whole economy, Kennedy observed that unemployment in February reached its lowest level in 19 months, profits are at a record high, prices are fairly stable and goods are moving.

"Therefore," he said, "I think that this economy has more vitality in it than some of its premature mourners."

Later the president said the test for Congress is not the pace at which it acts but the action it takes. Specifically, he mentioned medical care for the aged and "those pieces of legislation which will help us fight the next economic downturn." He has recommended such measures as standby authority to invest federal money in public works and make automatic tax cuts if an economic downturn threatens. He also wants tax credit for industrial investment and improvements in unemployment compensation.

The forthcoming Geneva disarmament meeting, nuclear testing and relations with the Soviet Union occupied much of the conference, Kennedy's seventh in eight weeks.

He disclosed he had advanced concrete proposals to Soviet Premier Khrushchev for cooperation in outer space—reportedly on such projects as communications and weather forecasting satellites. He said it would be perfectly proper to discuss Berlin and Southeast Asian danger spots at Geneva because these matters directly influence the progress of armaments.

While he could make pessimistic predictions about the Geneva assembly, Kennedy said, everyone must hope for an agreement that eases worldwide tensions.

To an audience of 385 newsmen and spectators, Kennedy had this to say on other topics:

Summit—He set off a roar of laughter with this response, to indicate he hasn't changed position, when told commentators are saying he is about to eat his words against attending a summit conference without progress on a lower diplomatic rung:

"Well, I am going to have a dinner for all of the people who have written it and we will see who eats what."

Kennedy said he would attend if some agreements already had been reached, or to avert war or if faced with an extremely dangerous situatioin. He implied hope that his conditions may be met this spring, but said summits are more likely to disappoint than help without some prior meeting of minds.

B-70—It would be questionable, he said, to invest big sums right now in development of this high altitude bomber which would not be ready until 1970, particularly when much of the necessary equipment is not yet available.

Soviet Union — In connection with Khrushchev's orders this week for new measures to increase farm output, Kennedy said there has been no talk of sending surplus food to the Soviets and added he's glad U.S. agricultural difficulties—in contrast — are caused by overproductions.

Nuclear — Creation of nuclear-free zones around the world probably will be discussed at Geneva, he said. But he wondered if they would make such difference when missiles can deliver bombs to targets 5,000 miles away.

S. Viet Nam Forces Hit Red Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese forces reported 23 Communist guerrillas were killed today in one operation near the southern tip of Viet Nam. Authorities feared another concentration of Red fighters had evaded 1,500 government troops chasing them in the Mekong River delta.

In the latter operation, in Kien Hoa Province near the China Sea, a U.S. Army helicopter flying supplies was down with engine trouble in a remote region heavily infested with guerrillas. But government troops threw a protective cordon around it and the military command in Saigon hoped to send in a replacement engine.

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Mrs. Aida Goodell Rust, 63 from Escondido has entered the gubernatorial race against Richard Nixon and Joseph Shell.

Mrs. Rust, a housewife, yesterday paid an $800 filing fee at the registrar of voters office here and departed with nomination papers.

She said she always wanted to be in politics and the decision to enter the race was made some time ago.

TV Speeches Exchange Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have mutually agreed to postpone their planned exchange of television speeches because the "right atmosphere" does not exist at present.

The White House said it was hoped that the exchange could be carried out later this year.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger, in a brief statement, announced the change of plans late last night. He would not discuss the origin of the mutual agreement to put off the exchange, which for the first time would have presented an American president to the Russian public. The plan also called for Khrushchev to appear on U.S. television screens.

U.S., 24 Other Nations Agree To Cuts In Tariff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and 24 other nations have agreed to chop about 20 per cent from tariffs on a wide range of items—from automobiles to Scotch whisky. And U.S. officials said America came out ahead 4 to 3 in the deal.

First reaction to the agreement — which President John F. Kennedy termed highly advantageous to the United States —was favorable.

U.S. auto makers generally viewed it as a step in the right direction, and a spokesman for the European Common Market said "This is a first step toward world liberalization and we must rejoice about it."

Most of the reciprocal tariff cuts will involve the United States and Western Europe's industrial countries. While the reduction on most items will be 20 per cent, in a few cases they range up to 26 per cent.

On the list of major items affected are new automobiles, chemicals, drugs, electrical and industrial machinery; textiles, Scotch whisky, canned fruits, some steel products and glassware.

The United States claims it came out ahead 4 to 3 by figuring this way: The U.S. tariff reductions will involve 1.2 billion dollars of imports from the other 24 nations, while they have agreed to cut levies on 1.6 billion dollars of U.S. goods. The figures were based on world trade in 1960.

The president told Congress yesterday, in announcing the agreement, that in order to forestall a threatened collapse in negotiations, he agreed last September to lowering certain U.S. tariffs below the levels the Tariff Commission had found necessary for the protection of American producers.

If he hadn't, Kennedy said, the United States would have lost substantial trade in the long run and would have thrown a bar in the way to greater economic cooperation with Western Europe.

The White House said that in addition to gaining greater concessions than it granted, the United States received a promise from the six-nation Common Market to resume talks soon on proposals to lower barriers against American farm imports.

How will the tariff cutting agreements work?

As an example, the White House estimated the average American car will cost $126 less in European showrooms once the lower tariffs—24 per cent in this case—go into effect. The cost of a European car in the United States would drop an average of $21.50.

Generally, the tariff reductions will go into effect in two stages. The first is scheduled for June 30, the second a year later. A few tariff reductions will be extended over three years.

HEADS OR TAILS: POKER, POLITICS

Legislature Warms Up For Battle Over Two Games Involving Gamble

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature, warming up for a fight over Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 2.9-billion-dollar budget, occupied itself today with two games: Poker and politics.

Lawmakers got a wide choice of bills aimed at draw poker parlors now licensed by many communities.

One proposed an outright ban of the clubs. Others called for county option, a moratorium on new clubs and a limit on the number of players and tables.

Bringing the political campaign into it, the Assembly Republican caucus chairman, John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) criticized the Democratic governor's decision to place the poker problem before the current session.

Brown said he did so at the request of Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and Southern California law enforcement officials who expressed concern over recent attempts to open poker clubs in new areas.

Busterud said many legislators have long been opposed to poker parlors but that Brown waited until an election year to act on the problem.

Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), Democratic majority leader, cracked back that neither Busterud nor Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles) the minority leader, had ever introduced such measures themselves.

Both Busterud and Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), Senate minority leader, declared in statements that they will scrutinize the administration's spending requests carefully.

McCarthy said Senate Republicans will seek "substantial reductions" in what he termed a "fantastically expensive budget proposal." Busterud spoke of it as "rocket high."

No Aid Now Advised For Crash Victims

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An Assembly committee advises against any state financial aid now for victims of the 1960 Toledo, Ohio, plane crash which killed 16 members of the Cal Poly football team.

In a report released yesterday, the Assembly Judiciary Committee noted that damage suits against those allegedly responsible for the crash still are in the courts. In all, 22 persons were killed and 26 injured.

A major point in the complex court action is that the companies which insured the non-scheduled airline have refused to honor any claims on the grounds that the plane was not airworthy.

Should the court action result in no relief for the victims and their families, the committee said the legislature could appropriate funds. About $250,000 already has been collected privately, the bulk from the Mercy Bowl game Thanksgiving Day at Los Angeles.

A Civil Aeronautics Board of Inquiry said the twin-engine aircraft operated by Arctic Pacific, Inc., of Oakland, crashed on takeoff in part because of overloading, bad weather and an engine failure. Arctic Pacific now is defunct.

French, Algerian Talks Going Well

EVIAN, France (AP) — The new Algerian peace talks are reported going well so far with no serious obstacles as yet arising to block agreement on a cease-fire and eventual independence for the strife-torn North African territory.

The French and Algerian rebel delegations met again this morning for the second day of renewed peace talks which are expected to end the 7½-year Algerian rebellion and ring down 131 years of French domination over the territory.

Swiss helicopters ferried Belkacem Krim, rebel deputy premier, and his delegation from their base in neutral Switzerland to this French Alpine resort town. Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe headed the French team bargaining over the green-topped table in the Hotel Du Parc.

The negotiators worked in secrecy behind a heavy French security guard in the tan stucco hotel overlooking Lake Geneva. Both sides agreed to make no public comment for fear of further inflaming partisan emotions in Algeria.

Officials in Paris indicated that announcement of a cease-fire was expected between March 15 and 22. Plans were being made for the French National Assembly to meet immediately following the announcement to debate the agreement.

Despite the conference news blackout, informants gave the impression that both sides were determined to settle their remaining differences within the next few days.

Papers Lauded For Opening Eyes On Vision

I-J Special Report

ANAHEIM— Newspapers have done more for vision than any other force. Thanks to the American press, the optometric profession has made the public more vision conscious from information it has received about eyes and eye care.

This was the statement by Dr. Arthur C. Heinsen Jr., of San Jose, speaking at the 57th annual Congress of the California Optometric Assn. and auxiliary last week at Disneyland.

He challenged parents and school authorities to see that proper screening, or checking, is done on the eyes of school children by optometrists (or ophthalmogists), claiming that many children are being woefully neglected in that field. "Eighty per cent of man's knowledge comes through the eyes," he said.

Marin Labor Unit Installs President

George Goodfellow of Tamalpais Valley, assistant business agent for Hodcarriers, Construction and General Laborers Union Local 291, last night was installed in absentia for another term as president of the Marin County Labor Council.

Goodfellow was unable to attend the dinner meeting of more than 100 council delegates at Sabella's Restaurant, being in Washington, D.C., at a legislative trades conference.

Also formally named as council officials for 1962 were Robert G. Alander, vice president, Carpenters Union Local 1710; Hugh Cassidy, secretary-treasurer, State Employees Local 411; John Daly, sergeant-at-arms, Machinists Lodge 238.

The installation was performed for the 16th year by Lowell Nelson, chief of the housing division of the State Department of Industrial Relations.

Installed as directors of the council were L. C. Brooks, Laborers Local 291; Terry Haag, Office and Professional Employees Local 3, and A. F. Mello, State Employees Local 411.

Taking the oath of office as members of the executive board were Thomas M. Beyed, Machinists Lodge 238; Paul Crumley, Carpenters Local 35; Pat Dailey, Bartenders and Culinary Workers Local 126; Phil Ruby, Marin County Federation of Teachers Local 1077; James Smith, Butchers Local 115; Charles Weers, Sheet Metal Workers Local 75.

Guest speaker was Irving H. Perluss, director of the State Department of Employment.

"This will not be a political speech," Perluss warned the delegates and guests. "The Hatch Act forbids federal employees from talking politics—so I will only talk about what the present administration has done for the employment program.

Citing the administration as "more farsighted than any in the past," Perluss said over one and one-half million job applications had been placed last year, an increase of 21 per cent over the past three years.

Older workers, youth, minority groups and the handicapped have all been objects of special consideration by the present administration, he said.

Special legislation permitting training of those displaced by automation while drawing unemployment was instigated during the past year, he said.

California, Perluss said, led the nation in extending weekly unemployment benefits in times of severe unemployment and in raising the amount of weekly checks.

Also installed were four members to the Marin County Committee on Political Action. They are Dailey, Brooks, Weers and Charles M. Geller of Electrical Workers Local 551.

L. C. Brooks, who celebrated his 75th birthday along with the installation, received telegrams of contgratulations for long service to the labor movement from Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, Sen. Clair M. Engel and Rep. Clem Miller.

Tiburon Incorporation 'Could Stop 2nd Span'

An incorporated Tiburon could successfully fight building of a San Francisco-Tiburon bridge and block such developments as multi-story apartments, panelists on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" said today.

All four panelists spoke in favor of the move to incorporate in a one-hour program devoted to the subject. Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer said opponents of incorporation were invited to participate but declined.

Speaking in favor of the petition finally filed Feb. 23 to incorporate the area were William Rafter, chairman of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council; Fred C. Hannahs, secretary of the council and president of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn., Leland H. Jordan, the council's legal adviser, and Mrs. Palmer Field, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League.

Rafter said numerous moves had been made since the end of World War II to incorporate Tiburon or annex it to Belvedere. The recent petition, he said grew out of a move started in October, 1959, by the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce to annex Tiburon to Belvedere.

Hannahs said Belvedere wanted to "retain its unique character." He said, however, he hoped to see the two communities set up joint services, such as police.

The next step after checking of signatures on the petition, Jordan said, is for the Marin County Board of Supervisors to set hearing to determine boundaries and schedule an incorporation election.

Rafter, Hannahs and Mrs. Field all said residents of the Tiburon area were severly handicapped in dealings with the county, other communities and the state because of lack of a body of authority such as a city government.

Rafter and Mrs. Field said there is a dearth of recreation facilities on the peninsula. The Tiburon Community Center "is a disgrace, a swamp," said Mrs. Field. She said she formerly was against incorporation but changed her mind when the idea of a Tiburon-San Francisco bridge arose.

Mrs. Field, whose organization will sponsor a demonstration ferry ride from Tiburon to San Francisco Saturday, said she hoped to see ferries all over the bay.

The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Third Drunken Driving Offense Nets 15-Day Term

Novato carpenter Edwin Joseph O'Hara, 40, must spend 15 days in Marin County Jail and pay $276 fine for his third drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. O'Hara, who lives at 1438 Cambridge Street, Novato, was caught on Highway 101 last Saturday. He had prior convictions in February of 1946 and in October of 1957.

The judge gave him work furlough privilege, which means he may work during the day and spend nights and weekends in jail.

Three others were sentenced for drunken driving.

Rowena Ann Hicks, 38, of Hayward must pay $166 fine and remain on nine months probation. She was caught on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo last Sunday.

Edwin Gould Klinck, 25, of 11 Glen Court, Sausalito, drew six months probation and $166 fine. He was arrested on Bridgeway in Sausalito on Monday.

Last Friday, Otis Vernon Harvey, 30, of San Francisco, was sentenced for driving while intoxicated along Paradise Drive on Dec. 22 last year. Judge Harold J. Haley put Harvey on six months probation and imposed a $139 fine.

Drunken Driver Draws $220 Fine

Dr. John P. O'Brien, 69, of Buir Beach paid $220 fine and drew six months probation yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court also ordered the dentist to drive only for work and necessary family errands for the next 90 days.

O'Brien was arrested on Shoreline Highway about a mile from Highway 101 on March 1 after a two-car collision.

Fairfax School Science Fair Winners Told

Jeff Schriebman, Fairfax Central School eighth grader, yesterday won grand prize in the school science fair with his project "Binary Computer."

The computer consists of a series of electrical circuits connected to various questions. By a process of elimination, the computer will answer questions asked of it.

In the eighth grade division, first prize went to Roberta Smith for her entry, "The Human Head."

Seventh grade division first prize went to David Hutchinson and Jared Rossman for their team entry, "Embryology."

Seventeen projects were entered in the annual science fair.

erty rights without recompense. I believe it is unconstitutional," declared McCarthy.

Joel F. Gustafson, president of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation, greeted the news with pleasure and declared, "Now that the subcommittee has passed it, we are sure it will go to the full House for action."

Gustafson said removal of the exclusion of Duck Cove was unimportant because "the Duck Cove people are to be taken care of in a letter of agreement with the National Park Service which will give them what amounts to double life tenancy."

Quite a different expression came from John F. Ward, attorney and spokesman for the nine Duck Cove families.

The Duck Cove properties are wholly enclosed by the Mendoza Ranch, which is one of those excluded for ranch use. This means, said Ward, that Duck Cove is insulated from the seashore-to-be.

The Duck Cove owners would maintain their own "scenic buffer zone" at no cost to the govment, said Ward. "We want to give free what the park people want to ask the taxpayers to spend $200,000 for. . . . The Senate was amenable to our point of view and agreed that to take our land was not necessary."

He expressed hope the House would accede to Senate provision when and if the bill reaches conference committee. It first must be reported out by the full House interior committee and passed by the House itself. Differences between Senate and House versions would then have to be adjusted.

Shortly before World War II, he expanded the business to include the restaurant field with the establishment of the Surf Club in Stinson Beach. He sold his interest in all establishments on retirement.

Mill Valley Teeners To Dance Again Under City Sponsorship

Fifty Mill Valley teen-agers appeared before the city council last night prepared to make a plea for co-sponsorship by the city of their thrice-monthly dances.

But they did not have to speak.

The council voted 3-0, Mayor Robert D. Huber and Councilman George Blackwell absent, to co-sponsor dances through the park and recreation commission. At the same time it agreed that city insurance will cover the dances, with premiums to be paid by Mill Valley Teens, Inc., the teen-agers club.

The action came after what was called a "misunderstanding" by the club and the commission regarding the city's position. Club and commission had thought the city was sponsoring the dances and carrying insurance. City Manager A. E. Almcrants last week disclosed this was not so.

Acting Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, who had previously been on record as not wishing the city to act as sponsor, said last night he felt there was a possibility of arranging a contract to proceed on the basis of the last few months. Sheeks, who said he is father of a teen-age son, said the city manager had reported insurance would cost $14-$15 per dance for the city.

Sheeks said five teen-age youths called at his home last week: Tex Hamilton, Pete Hindley, Greg Cory, Steve Long and Tony Houston. "They are fine representatives," said Sheeks.

Joseph C. Brewster, parks and recreation commission member said, "The city should take the initiative . . . in a recreation program for our youth."

Roy A. Ibach, who said he was present at the club's last dance at the American Legion Hall, said the dance "was conducted on a high scale . . . there is a definite need for an activity such as this." He urged the council to co-sponsor.

Recreation Director Ronald C. Samet was commended by Dr. P. R. Danford, a club adviser and chairman of the parks and recreation commission.

Club manager Hal Schwartz said today there will be no dance until the agreement with the city has been checked by attorney Robert H. Andresen.

Pension Plan Is Argued By Mill Valley Council

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Mill Valley City Councilman George D. Monardo argued last night and early Friday with his fellow councilmen that the city should assist city employees in investigation of a new pension plan.

Monardo, as at a council meeting Feb. 21, had no supporters. But he argued until the council agreed to instruct City Manager A. E. Almcrants to invite pension plan representatives to a meeting with employees.

To be invited are a representative of the city's present carrier, Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California, and a person from the State Employees' Retirement System. Those city councilmen wishing to attend are invited to do so, acting Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said.

Monardo said he did not want to be faced two years from now with the employees bringing the matter up for a referendum vote of the people.

Sheeks scolded Monardo when he learned Monardo had met Monday with the Mill Valley Employees Assn. "There is too much one man action on too many matters," said Sheeks.

Mayor Robert D. Huber, who arrived at the meeting at 12:15 a.m. and did not take the mayor's seat, said "I don't think we are duty bound to help them (employees) unless they seek our help."

Councilman Michael Wornum said the employees association is "outside our business . . . I don't want to go to a meeting of this sort."

Monardo told councilmen that Sausalito and San Rafael have the state retirement plan and "we may lose some of our people to these cities."

When asked by Wornum if there had been grievances, Monardo said Fire Chief Leslie Armager has been dissatisfied with the present program.

"Someone at Kentfield, with less time than Armager, is retiring with $365 and Armager will retire with about $125," Monardo said.

"If Almcrants wants to listen, he can get an ear full," he added.

"We can give more benefits but it has to come from somewhere—the treasury," said Sheeks.

McGee Warns On Prison Overcrowding

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A legislative committee was told today that California will be courting disaster if it doesn't move now to halt overcrowding and idleness in its prisons.

Richard A. McGee, administrator of the Youth and Adult Corrections Agency, called for greater community efforts against crime and wider use of parole and probation to help meet the threat.

McGee informed the Senate Judiciary Committee that the state's population in the 15-24 age group will climb by 71 per cent in the next decade, compared with an overall rise of 37 per cent.

"This means that everyone dealing with the delinquency and crime problem must prepare for this onslaught or court disaster — even if the crime rate goes down," he said.

Waler Dunbar, director of corrections, told the senators, who are investigating the recent rash of prison disturbances, that the rated safe capacity of California prisons is 9,707.

There are 24,245 inmates, 4,538 over capacity, he said, and even a huge building program planned for the future won't meet the expected increase in commitments.

Kent School Science Fair Winners Told

Mitchell Fink, Adeline E. Kent School eighth grader, last night won grand prize at the school science fair with his project, "Comparative Amounts of Light Emitted by 10 Pyrotechnic Compositions."

Fink, 13, of 18 Via Hermosa in Greenbrae, developed the project, a long-burning, bright flare, in a chemistry lab at his home built by his father.

Winning first prize in physical science projects was Mike Milot with his exhibit entitled, "Cement From Oysters."

First prize in biological science went to Susan Mellerup for her project, "Food and Color."

There were 13 entries prepared by 19 pupils.

Population In Larkspur Gains

Larkspur's population may have gone up 500 or 600 since the 1960 census, City Manager Ronald E. Piper estimated last night.

The 1960 nose count showed 5,710 persons living in Larkspur, but the number may be 6,300 to 6,400 now, Piper said.

On his recommendation, the city council authorized a new State Department of Finance population estimate, which will cost the city about $200. If the official population rises, the city's share of state allocations such as gasoline tax funds will increase, Piper explained.

Supervisors To Get Tour Of Parks

Members of the Marin Parks and Recreation Commission hope to take county supervisors on a "grand tour" of county parks April 18, they decided last night.

An invitation will be put to the supervisors next week and on whatever date is mutually agreeable the party will visit:

McClure's Beach, a one-acre parking area with trail to the sea; Miller Park, six acres with a state-provided boat launching ramp; Drake's Bay where the county has 50 acres mostly including lagoon; Bolinas, .6 acre including tennis courts; Muir Beach Overlook to be opened to the public this summer, an 8.9-acre roadside rest; Paradise Beach, 19.2 acres with a pier to be renovated for fishing and with the only swimming available thus far it any county park.

Major attention last night was devoted to discussion of next year's budget and it was decided to fix the figure definitely at an April 4 meeting at which Miss Gladys Synder, recreation specialist for the state, will be a speaker.

A request will be made to the supervisors, the commission decided, to send its chairman Mrs. Helen Newman and Edward Kagi of the county planning commission staff to Sacramento for an approaching Wildlife Conservation Commission meeting at which decision will be made about provision of parimutuel money for $34,000 renovations of the Paradise Beach pier, formerly property of the now deactivated naval net depot.

The commission agreed that removal of large concrete slabs at the Paradise Beach park will comprise one of the big jobs of the next fiscal year. These were building foundation but now impair the natural beauty.

FROM NURSERY TO KINDERGARTEN

Over 400 Ponderosa pine seedlings were distributed to kindergarten pupils in the Dixie School District yesterday in celebration of Arbor Day and the launching of Conservation Week. Mrs. James E. LaZansky, teacher at the Mary E. Silveira School, Marinwood, instructs pupils (from left), Terry Codington, Wendy Blanton, Tim Synek, Lisa Duerr, Matt Lanning and Jon Eastman in proper care of the six-inch trees. Larkspur To Use Own Radio System

Larkspur will have a private firm take care of its police and fire radio system and other communications facilities because the county communications system costs too much.

The city council last night voted unanimously to withdraw from the county arrangement on May 1 and get the service from General Communications Engineering Co. of Oakland.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said Larkspur now pays $12.50 per month for police radio and $10 per month for fire radio facilities, whereas the private firm can give the same services for a total of $7.50 per month. Other communication facilities cost $25 under the county system, but the private company can provide them for $15 per month, he said.

Piper said General Communications Engineering has an office and service shop in San Rafael. He said city managers in San Rafael and Mill Valley are also looking into the possibility of switching to the private firm.

Larkspur councilmen voted to sign a one-year contract with the company.

Notary Issuance

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Sheridan B. Rowe, 250 Bon Air Road, Greenbrae.

'Conic Sections' Play Part In Science Fair

"Exploring Conic Sections" is the name of a group exhibit which won the grand award in Marin Catholic High School's science fair.

The exhibit was entered by Bill Corderio and Frank Burch. Second place winner in mathematics was Sue Denman, whose entry was "Can We Rely on the Theory of Probability?"

Both exhibits will be in the county science fair at College of Marin March 15 and 16, along with these other winners at Marin Catholic:

BIOLOGY—Lane Chamboss and Gene Caccotti, "Adopted Characteristics, Through Canabalism, in Planaria", Mary Lou Lally and Viki Presson, "How Planaria React to Stimuli", Sharon Phelan, "The Brain"; Rod Ponath, "Are Reflex Actions Controlled by the Brain?"

CHEMISTRY — Irene Sarocka and Sue Donati, "Synthetic Detergents versus Soap"; Don Hemovich and John Hassett, "Acidity of Soils", Rod McKnew, "Chemical Hydrolysis of Cellulose"; Jim McKenna, "Chemotography."

PHYSICS — John Jones, Jim Palleschi, Tom O'Connell and George Kouske, "The Intensity of Sound"; Lou Wayers and Joe Phelan, "Can Heat Energy Be Converted to Electric Energy?"; Durwood Dalka, "Can a Machine Think?"; Michael Mellon, "A New Approach to Traffic Safety," and Thomas Ravizza, "Visible Air Flows and Wind Resistance."

Homeowners Unit Elects Chairman

Robert W. Riboli of 41 El Camino Drive, Corte Madera, was elected temporary chairman of the Marin Estates Homeowners Assn. Tuesday night.

Other board members elected at the annual meeting were incumbent Charles Kopf, Mrs. Carolyn Laney, Walter Nagel, Eugene P. Lordon, Mrs. Patricia M. Challender, Philip Seymor, Russell D. Ralsten and Arthur B. McCurdy.

Permanent board officers will be elected March 19.

Corte Madera Town Councilman Edward W. Colthurst spoke to association members on the proposed town public safety building $100,000 bond proposal which will come before the voters April 10.

Riboli spoke on the proposed $165,000 bond issue proposal for a town swimming pool, also slated for the April 10 municipal election.

Benefit Concert At Drake Saturday

A benefit concert for the Sir Francis Drake High School music scholarship fund will be presented in the school's little theater at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Drak'e orchestra, band and a capella choir will participate, and the program will include various small groups and solos with about 120 students involved.

Retirement Plan Steps Are Taken

Larkspur last night took its first hesitant steps toward putting city employees under the state retirement system.

A resolution of intent to enter into the retirement system barely squeaked by in a 3-to-2 vote. Councilmen Daniel Allen and Neil R. Brixon and Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug voted for the resolution. Councilmen Lesly A. Daveler and James R. Lienkaemper voted no.

The next step will be for city employees themselves to vote on whether they want the retirement system. If the employees approve, the city council must give final approval. That final action will require a two-thirds vote, which means "yes" votes of four out of five councilmen, City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner explained.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper reported he finds the state retirement system better than anything that private companies can offer. He estimated that the city would pay an additional $10,000 per year to provide state retirement for employees.

Councilman Daveler said he is not against retirement, but is not convinced that the state retirement system is the best from the standpoint of both the employees and taxpayers.

Early Egyptians desiring air conditioning soaked their walls with water. The desert winds evaporated the water and in the process the houses became cool.

Teachers Get Tips From Hayakawa

The problem of communication and a special challenge to the teacher were presented in a lecture last night by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, Mill Valley semanticist, to an audience of more than 450 in Terra Linda's Bernard Hoffman School auditorium.

Sponsoring the lecture were the Marin County superintendent's office, the Dixie District Parents Group and the Dixie Teachers Assn.

Employing the "Ames Trapezoid Window," Dr. Hayakawa demonstrated an experiment in perception to establish the premise that the problem of communication is one of perception.

What we perceive is the interaction between the observer and the observed and each of us organizes what he sees according to previous experience, he declared.

"Therefore, self concept determines the success or failure of all communication. Under threats, self concept sets up a rigidity or a defense," said Hayakawa.

Only by listening fully to the opposing side to that point where you acknowledge the other to be a reasonable and rational human being does the interaction set up to begin an exchange of information for successful communication, he went on.

"This," said the speaker, "is a change of self concept through which comes growth."

Hayakawa urged the teacher to create conditions under which maximum learning takes place and not "pour information down the little jugs."

Trio Accused Of Robbery Get Lawyers

Court appointed lawyers will defend three men accused of robbing Bermuda Palms Hotel Tuesday morning.

Public Defender Peter Allen Smith will represent Robert Wallace Lawrence, 34, of Fairfax, who is suspected as being the gunmen who took $367 in cash and checks from a night clerk.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson appointed attorney C. John Bernt to represent Dale R. Frost, 27, of San Rafael and Richard G. Payne, 20, of San Francisco.

Lawrence pleaded innocent before Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court yesterday. The other two were scheduled to appear this afternoon to enter their pleas.

Nevada College Men

Two Marin men have been approved as candidates for 1962 bachelor's degrees from University of Neveda. They are Merlin F. Martin of San Rafael, zoology major, and Alfred S. Colen of Ross, mechanical engineering.

LAUNDROMAT IS TAKEN TO CLEANERS BY BANDIT

The copper washer bandit strikes again!

William Louis Worden of 807 Atherton Avenue, Novato, reported to Novato police that someone had inserted 18 copper washers in the change machine at the Spee-Dee Laundromat at 1103 Grant Avenue between 10 p.m. Tuesday and 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

The copper washers were the same size as 50-cent pieces and were used to get change from the coin machine.

A series of similar thefts occurred in Marin County last fall, according to police.

Bermuda Palms Owners Gets Jury Trial In Patrol Case

The owner of Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael, accused of obstructing a highway patrolman who was giving a traffic ticket to a woman motorist, will fight the charge in a jury trial.

Irving B. (Whitey) Litchfield, 51, appeared with attorney John G. Buresh yesterday before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court. The judge set the case for a four-day jury trial to begin on May 1.

Highway Patrolman Joseph Kendricks had stopped a woman suspected of making an illegal U-turn on the morning of Feb. 24 near Bermuda Palms. The patrolman said Litchfield interfered and had to be taken to jail in handcuffs.

The sun is in total eclipse only four hours and 50 minutes every century.

The next 35 prizes will be major gas and electric appliances or TV sets. Another 100 portable appliances will be awarded, such as mixers, toasters and irons.

George M. Henderson, district manager of PG&E in the Marin district, said all customers are eligible by filling in the entry blank enclosed with the March gas and electric bill, having it registered at a "Reddy Recommended Appliance Dealer" and depositing it before midnight on March 31. Blanks are also available at dealers and PG&E offices. He said the drawing will be held April 13 and winners will be notified by mail.

Henderson described "Reddy Recommended Dealers" as maintaining a business within the PG&E service area and having a representative display of franchise appliances. "They sell the finest reputable appliance brands and guarantee satisfactory service on appliances sold," he said.

In addition to the regular drawing, dealers in Marin County are featuring their own prize drawings held in their respective stores. These gifts will vary from disposals to portable radios. Henderson noted that since dealers participating in the promotion are themselves competing for sales awards, "it is likely that customers will find many fine bargains available."

Police Officer, Ex-Felon Team Up For Gospel

Former Bitter Enemies Work For Brotherhood

ATLANTA, Ga.—A policeman and a former convict—once bitter enemies—now are teaming up to tell of the blessings of brotherhood.

For officer J. W. Moore and paroled convict Dan Bennett, it began 25 years ago. Bennett had a fight with a younger brother of Moore.

Moore later took up the battle and suffered severe stab wounds.

For weeks he hovered between life and death, one thought dominating — get revenge.

"It was in my mind to kill him," Moore said.

But Bennett was sent to prison, and other crimes—burglaries and robberies committed during prison breaks — kept him behind bars 23 years.

Moore decided he wanted to become a policeman and eight years ago he joined the force.

Two years ago Bennett injected a solution of poison into his right arm. Prison physicians saved his life but had to amputate his arm.

Bennett sought solace in the prison chapel.

Moore, long active as a youth leader, began to appear at churches as a singer.

After his parole last September, Bennett felt he had a message for the young people.

Eventually the two met on the same church program. Religious faith and the passing years had replaced hatred with fellowship. They decided that together they could carry an effective message of brotherhood.

"I count it one of the greatest blessings of my life," Bennett said.

JOINED BY FAITH—Dan Bennett (left), ex-convict, and patrolman J. W. Moore, once bitter enemies, now work for brotherhood together. (AP Wirephoto)

Dominican Figures Flee Homeland

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI) —Dominican former President Joaquin Balaguer and former Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria arrived here in separate planes before dawn today as refugees from their homeland.

Balaguer was accompanied by a brother-in-law, Mario O. Vallejo, two sisters, Emma and Isabel Balaguer, and a maid. Rodriguez traveled alone except for two escorting officers, who returned to the Dominican Republic.

Among them, the six travelers had 22 pieces of luggage.

It was not certain immediately if the refugees would remain long on this U. S. island.

Conservation League Dinner To Hear Biologist Speaker

Dr. Francis P. Filice, University of San Francisco biologist, will discuss the natural resource values of San Francisco Bay to Marin County and the whole Bay Area at the Marin Conservation League's 28th annual dinner meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Dinner reservations may be made at the Camp Fire Girls' office, San Rafael.

Dr. Filice's illustrated talk, "San Francisco Bay—a Great Natural Resource," will begin about 8:15. The public is invited to the lecture free of charge, according to Dr. Joel F. Gustafson, a vice president of the league.

A 6 p.m. social hour will precede the dinner.

Dr. Filice has studied the ecology of San Pablo and Suisun bays under a State Department of Fish and Game grant, and the ecology of the San Francisco waterfront with a Public Health Service grant.

Marin Conservation League directors will present annual reports at the meeting, and new officers will be elected.

The reports will cite establishment of the Point Reyes National Seashore Recreation Area among the League's primary objectives this year.

The League also plans to work with the state toward creation of the Golden Gate Beach State Park, and to follow work of the governor's committee studying a state system of scenic highways.

Conservation Week Is Opening Tomorrow

Tomorrow marks the opening of the 28th annual California Conservation Week and Year - Round Outdoor Good Manners Campaign.

Main emphasis of the 1962 program will be preservation of the natural beauty of San Francisco Bay, according to Mrs. Bertram K. Dunshee of Ross, associate campaign chairman.

Mildred Maguire, principal of the Meadowsweet School of Corte Madera, is Marin County chairman.

3 Dry Years Come To End In California

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Federal water officials have confirmed that three dry years are over for Northern California.

Officials said the Central Valley Project's three big reservoirs, Shasta, Folsom and Millerton lakes, are expected to fill to capacity.

A big snowpack in the mountains is expected to provide runoff throughout the year.

Storage at Shasta Lake is 3,669,500 acre-feet of water, 176,500 acre-feet above last year and approaching the lake's 4.5 million acre-feet capacity.

Folsom, with a capacity of one million acre-feet, stands at 611,900 and Millerton has 394,320 acre-feet. Millerton's capacity is 520,000 acre-feet.

Mill Valley Harbor Is Given Another Set Back By State

Mill Valley has hit another snag in getting started on its small craft harbor, the city council was told last night.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants said he had been informed by the Small Craft Harbor Commission in Sacramento that the first portion of funds cannot be allocated until title to a piece of harbor land is searched. The state gave the land to the city some years ago.

Almcrants said this will not hold up the dredging, bids for which are to be called this month.

The council held a hearing on the proposed new master plan, with City Planning Consultant Robert Cornish describing in detail land use and circulation.

Architect Rolland B. Hammond, representing the Silverberg properties with lands on the Corte Madera ridge, suggested that Silverberg lots, now planned to be from 20,000 to 40,000 square feet, be an average of 20,000 square feet with 18,000-square-foot lots on the ridge.

The council continued the hearing to March 21.

At one point acting Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks banged his gavel thunderously and told property owner Manuel Gomez: "If you don't obey the chair, I will call the police department and have you ejected from the meeting."

Dr. Alfred J. Rider, chairman of the Mill Valley Citizens Advisory Committee, and Gomez were engaging in debate over present densities.

Rider said, "We're opposed to increased population concentration." Gomez said icily: "They don't want any more people in Mill Valley? Too bad it wasn't done when I came over. We could stop at 3,000."

Dean Meyer, speaking for the Highlands Assn., said the association is in agreement with the plan for increasing lot sizes and reducing density.

The council awarded contracts for improvement work on Miller Avenue-Camino Alto intersection. For construction, it awarded a $62,506 contract to E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera. For traffic signals, it awarded a contract of $12,334 to L. H. Leonardi Electrical Construction Co. of San Rafael. Both were low bidders.

The Mill Valley Council also:

1. Heard a report on Marine World in which Sheeks said information has been received from the California Academy of Sciences and that two councilmen plus Almcrants have visited the Marineland Oceanarium in Southern California. Other investigations are continuing, Sheeks said.

2. Introduced the uniform county food handlers' ordinance.

3. Requested an opinion from the planning commission as to a proposal that all use permits come to attention of the city council.

4. Asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draft a bicycle licensing ordinance.

5. Voted to authorize City Engineer Stanley M. Bala to make final alignment of Sycamore Avenue extension and to get estimates on design and rough grading, right-of-way to show four lanes.

6. Accepted with regret the resignation of Finance Director Earl Yancey.

7. Announced the next Marin County Council of Mayors would be March 28 in Mill Valley at the Municipal Golf Clubhouse.

8. Approved warrants of $19,641.

MAYOR BETTER LATE, ETC. . . .

Mayor Robert D. Huber was a little late for last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting, but he made it.

Huber arrived in the city council chamber at 12:15 a.m. today. He was still in time for the last hour of the meeting.

Jobless Rate Falls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate fell to 5.8 per cent of the labor force in February — lowest level in 19 months — the government has announced.

Larkspur Adopts New Excavation Ordinance

Larkspur last night adopted its new grading and excavation ordinance by unanimous vote of the five city councilmen.

The new ordinance incorporates several changes proposed at last month's meeting. One of them is that anyone opposing ar grading permit will have five days (not 14 days) in which to appeal the granting of the grading permit.

The council also approved a food handler's ordinance, which is being adopted throughout the county. The ordinance requires annual X-ray examinations of all persons engaged in food handling.

In other actions last night, the city councilmen:

1. Named Councilman Lesly a. Daveler to represent the city on the County-wide Disaster and Civil Defense Council.

2. Decided to acknowledge the donation of land by Niels Schultz Sr. for the new Greenbrae firehouse. Dedication of the firehouse is set for April 1. A plaque to be affixed to the new firehouse will mention Schultz as donator.

3. Hired fireman Gordon Bell on a permanent basis. Bell has been on temporary duty since September of last year.

East Hammered By Storm—29 Die

NO SWIMMING IN POOL—The demolished swimming pool (lower left) and the collapsed building wall show how fierce winds and waves swept Rehoboth Beach, Del., yesterday and smashed this motel. (AP Wirephoto)

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coastal areas of seven mid-Atlantic states, many already in ruins from a record winter storm, felt again yesterday the hammer blows of extra-high tides turned into mountainous waves by violent winds.

At least 29 persons were reported dead along the battered and flooded shoreline from North Carolina to New York. New England escaped major damage as the storm's fury veered out to sea.

More high tides and gale force winds were expected for today but, it was hoped nothing to approach those of the past two days.

"It looks like a lumber yard from here (Ocean City, Md.) to Rehoboth Beach (Del.)," said a state police commander of Maryland's Eastern Shore. Maryland Gov. J. Millard Tawes has wired President John F. Kennedy asking that the region be declared a disaster area. Most of the 1,000 residents of the resort of Ocean City fled their shattered homes.

At Bowers, Del. five children from one family were swept to their deaths by flood waters, and two persons still were missing.

Deleware Gov. Elbert N. Carvel estimated damage at 50 million dollars and he, too, has asked Kennedy to declare his state's coastline a disaster area.

Virginia had seven known storm deaths, with damage estimates placed in the many millions.

In all the stricken areas, electric, gas and telephone services were knocked out.

At Wallops Island, off the Virginia coast, high waters caused severe damage to electronic equipment of a National Aeronautics and Space Administration rocket launching station. Damage estimates in the Hampton Roads areas is running into the millions.

Virginia Beach officials declared a state of emergency and called in the National Guard to prevent looting. Local police and firemen, the Navy, National Guard and Civil Defense personnel were operating in many of the stricken areas, as was the Red Cross. Helicopters hovered over the worst-hit sections.

About 250 miles east of Portsmouth, Va., the 215-foot tanker A. H. Dumont had her heavy deck cargo swept into the raging seas.

In the same area a Coast Guard vessel was proceeding to aid a stricken Chinese ship, the Chun Lee.

Also in the Atlantic, a Coast Guard cutter stood by the Chesapeake Lightship, stationed 33 miles east of Norfolk. The lightship, with a crew of about 16, had drifted about 25 miles from her position. The craft earlier had reported her forward bulkhead had buckled and her chance of surviving was in doubt.

Rival Politics Draw Youth In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Top figures on the American political scene expounded conflicting ideologies at rival rallies held by young conservatives and young democrats last night.

The rally crowds cheered lustily for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the conservative Republican from Arizona, and for Sen. Hubert Humphrey, the liberal Democrat from Minnesota.

Both rallies were picketed.

More than 17,000 persons attended the conservative rally at Madison Square Garden, which has a seating capacity of 18,200. Many of them were college students and other young people who had come in buses from other cities.

An estimated 2,500 persons, most of them students, about half filled St. Nicholas Arena for the liberal rally.

The conservative rally was sponsored by Young Americans for Freedom and the theme was "World liberation from communism."

Some time after plans for the Young Americans rally were announced months ago, the rival rally was arranged by the campus division of Americans for Democratic Action and the national and New York state federation of College Young Democrats, supported by Students for a Democratic Society. "Stand up for democracy" was the rallying cry of the liberal rally.

Goldwater told the Garden crowd that the conservative movement "spells the twilight of radical liberalism as it has been practiced in this country for too long a time." He said political conservatism is growing rapidly in metropolitan areas. His 20-minute speech was punctuated by applause more than 20 times.

Goldwater said the rally itself was a demonstration of conservative strength, and he declared the rival rally had flopped miserably.

Humphrey urged the crowd at the arena to "nail down the lies and the smear tactics against loyal patriotic Americans" by what he called the extreme right and the extreme Communist left.

He said these extremists talk the same religion and sleep in the same political bed. Both extremes want to get the United States out of the United Nations, he added.

Noting the empty seats in the arena, Humphrey said: "The problem in America is not empty seats but empty heads."

Goldwater was greeted at the Garden rally by an eight-minute demonstration. Red, white and blue balloons were released from bags under the ceiling. Confetti was thrown. Banners indicating support of Goldwater for president were waved.

Boos came from the Garden crowd at the mention of President John F. Kennedy's name when Rep. Donald Bruce (R-Ind.) one of the speakers, discussed Kennedy's inaugural message.

Other speakers included Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.), San. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), and L. Brent Bozell, a conservative writer who was an assistant to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

April Fool's Day dates from 16th Century France. New Year was changed from April 1 to January 1, and those who could not keep up with the change were the first "April Fools."

Britons Puffing Cigarettes Less After Cancer Report

LONDON (UPI) — Some Britons who smoke cigarettes appeared today to be trying to cut down. But no one could be sure they were succeeding.

Some tobacconists said sales were off this morning. But others said they were not.

In any case, the sampling of dealers by newspapers and news agencies was not large and it may not be known for some time whether yesterday's Royal College of Physicians report against heavy cigarette smoking was hitting home.

The report said smoking, particularly cigarettes increases the incidence of lung cancer, coronary thrombosis and other diseases. It also recommended the government take steps, including banning certain advertising practices and raising the price of tobacco, already the highest in the world, to discourage the habit.

Cigarette manufacturers denied the findings of the report but the physicians sought government help in discouraging smoking.

Newspapers, radio and television carried voluminous stories on the report to all corners of these islands. Most newspapers urged serious consideration of its findings.

Leicester Square tobacconist A. V. Steadman said a number of his customers had told him they were switching to pipes or cigars.

"But I expect they will start smoking cigarettes again in a few days' time," he added.

COMMUNIST DAILY WORKER SAYS 'HAVANA, SI! VIRGINIA, NO!'

LONDON (UPI)—The Communist Daily Worker was the only London newspaper today to see an ideological message in the Royal College of Physicians report on smoking, a report which attacked cigarettes but approved cigars.

The Daily Worker published a front page cartoon of a smiling Fidel Castro puffing on a fat Havana cigar. It bore the legend: "Havana, Si! Virginia, No!"

Democratic Administration Shorter Names Save Post Office $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department says it is saving about one million dollars a year on signs and dedication plaques for new buildings because, among other reasons:

1. "Kennedy" is shorter than "Eisenhower."
2. "Day" is shorter than "Summerfield."
3. A North Carolina surgeon was curious.

The surgeon, Dr. Roderick B. Ormandy of Duke University, became curious about a billboard-size sign advertising a new post office last year at Durham, N.C.

He wrote President John F. Kennedy suggesting this was playing it a bit loose with the taxpayers' money, and his letter was referred to the Post Office Department.

Department officials learned that the signs—some of them 8 by 12 feet—cost an average of about $400, with one costing $800. They were ordered by civilian building contractors on post office projects, who passed the costs along to the government.

Construction of more than 2,148 new post office buildings was started last year.

The department decided to take over the job of designing and ordering the signs on a mass-production basis. It came up with a standard 5 by 8-foot, three-color sign costing $39 each.

Department officials then decided additional savings could be effected on the purchase of dedication plaques.

The old plaques were 22 by 16⅝ inches and, ordered individually by the contractors, cost from $45.80 to $195 each. The new ones are 14 by 11 inches and cost $7.95 each on mass-production basis.

A department spokesman said one reason the smaller size is possible is that the names of Kennedy and Postmast General J. Edward Day, which go on each plaque, both are shorter than those of their respective predecessors, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Arthur E. Summerfield.

Giants' Main Problem Now Appears To Be Lack Of Infield Reserves

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—It's not easy and it is not pleasant to state that the S.F. Giants (as of now), are hurting. By that I mean they are not as secure, team-wise, as they look on the surface.

A truly strong pennant contender has to have reserve infield strength. The Giants haven't got it yet. They may have it before long. What they need is an experienced infield to fill in for Jose Pagan, shortstop, if an emergency arises. They have a couple of green pea infielders who are fairly good "glove men" but who can't help the club offensively.

Sure enough, Gil Garrido, here from Tacoma where he played in 148 games last year and hit for a puny .247, is around and a great glove man with a bat that seems to have a hole in it. Gil could fill in but he would weaken the club.

Jimmy Davenport at third base, if he's able to go along all year, presents no problem. But should he kick in with another ulcer attack, the only replacement is Harvey Kuenn who doesn't like third base but who will give it a try if need be.

ORLANDO CEPEDA at first base rates tops, and deservedly so. If the Giants can preserve Willie McCovey as a sub for Orlando, it wouldn't be so bad. But nothing but grief to Cepeda can get "Lovey Dovey" in the lineup at first base.

Chuck Hiller, sad to say, flopped last spring when the pressure was on him. Later when he was sent back to Tacoma and got his bearings, he delivered in good style. But when he came back the pennant pressure was off and he looked good. This spot is the Giants' worry wart position. Hiller could do it and I hope he does, but don't bet any great amount on him delivering.

ED BAILEY ranks as the number one catcher for the Giants. He's a lead-footed individual with a powerful bat. But any time he hits the ball on the ground, it's double play bait. And when Bailey isn't in the lineup the Giant catching is in the hands of the fates. Tom Haller, a great young catcher, rates next with John Pignatano in the third spot.

To get the Giants off to a flying start the full strength of the club must be on the pace. There isn't any room for stretching at all. So you see what I mean when I say the Giants make you leary because of their lack of reserve talent.

For the last three years Giant scouts have been asked to concentrate on infielders. The scouts did, but in the meantime the head men of the Giants peddled off too infielders of rare experience when they placed Eddie Bressoud and Joe Amalfitano on the block. Both were grabbed up and for that reason we find the Giants short handed in the very spots they sought to protect.

Kuenn, Willie Mays, Felipe and Matty Alou constitute the Giant outfield. This is a strong combination when working at top speed. Anything that would keep Mays or Felipe Alou out of the lineup would be brutal to the team's chances.

PITCHING, WHICH last year defeated the Giants, is considered the strongest point in favor of the team having a chance to win the pennant. In many respects Giant pitching involves a gamble that Billy Pierce and Don Larsen, newcomers, can help out. To this observer I'd rather gamble with the pitchers than I would with the rest of the club.

But it's early yet to be certain. But right now I'm leary of what could happen, and hopeful that it does not happen.

Oiler Boss Testifies

BALTIMORE (AP)—K. S. Bud Adams Jr., owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, says he was offered a National Football League franchise if he would drop out of the new league.

Adams testified in U.S. District Court yesterday the offer was made about a month after plans for formation of the AFL were announced publicly. The offer came from Edwin Pauley, part owner of the Los Angeles Rams, he said.

The Houston owner testified on the seventh day of the AFL's 10 million dollar antitrust suit against the NFL.

Adams said Pauley told him he should consider the cost of operating a football team before going into the sport. Pauley said he had known Adams' father and wanted to do his son a favor, the Houston owner said.

"He told me he would see that I got a franchise in the NFL," Adams told Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen, who is hearing the case without a jury.

Three-Way Tie In S.R. Circuit; Playoff Slated

A playoff will be announced this week between three teams now in a tie for first place in the San Rafael Recreation Department's adult class A basketball league.

Pinyk's Pizza, Perry's Delicatessen, and A. and E. Garage all have 6-3 season records. In games yesterday, Pinky's edged Cain Tire, 60-54, with Joe McGrath of Pinky's, high man, scoring 23 points.

A. and E. dumped Perry's 79-56, with Dale Aman the high point maker. He tallied 22 for the winners.

A CINCH SHOT

John Barrie, Redwood High School freshman has just been carried from his seat in the packed bleachers at Redwood and hoisted by a Harlem Clown player, Jack Simpson, to make a shot against the Redwood faculty, beaten by the Clowns last night 67-55 before a record 2,185 fans. (Harold Mathias photos)

REFRESHMENT—James Wylie, president of the Redwood Benchwarmers, sponsors of last night's game with the Harlem Clowns for the benefit of spring sports at Redwood High is given a drink, but not the ball, by a Clown, Gene Johnson. In charge of last night's show was Hal Keller, Benchwarmer vice president in charge of spring sports.

HEAVY LOAD—Referee Carl Brown, also coach of the Sir Francis Drake varsity basketball team, gets in his shot of the evening for the Harlem Clowns at Redwood. Redwood's athletic director Bob Troppmann reported that last night's attendance at the game is an all-time record for any basketball game in the county.

Rookies In Limelight At Training Workouts

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

In the spring a baseball manager's fancy turns to rookies—and right now there are three mighty fancy ones strutting their stuff.

They're outfielder Don Clendenon of the Pittsburgh Pirates, catcher-first-baseman Gene Oliver of the St. Louis Cardinals and infielder Jack Gibbs of the New York Yankees.

There may be many a called third strike between now and opening day but as of the moment big things are being planned for each of the trio.

Clendenon, who hit .290 for Columbus last season, drove in seven runs with a three-run homer and a grand slam yesterday and may win a regular berth in the Pirates' outfield.

Oliver, who hit 36 homers and batted .302 for Portland in 1961, was named to start behind the plate when the Cardinals open their exhibition schedule Saturday against the New York Mets. Oliver also is being considered as a sub for lefty-hitting first-baseman Bill White when the Cardinals face left-handed pitching.

Gibbs, a .270-hitter at Richmond and one of the Yankees' leading candidates to replace shortstop Tony Kubek, hammered out a long homer in the world champions' intra-squad game. The former University of Mississippi All-America's drive shared the spotlight with Roger Maris' first "homer" of the spring.

Redwood '9' Tops Abes In Opener

Baseball players Joe Weis and Rich Basco of the Redwood Giants varsity team know how to start the season off right.

Yesterday in a non-league game—the season's first—against Lincoln High of San Francisco, Weis laid into the first pitched ball of the game and sent it out of the park. Several innings later, Basco put some more drama in the contest when he smashed a double with bases loaded to send three Giants home

The result of this, Mike Cooney's pitching and other work, gave coach Al Endriss' squad a 9-2 victory over Lincoln. Cooney went the route. He struck out eight Mustangs, gave up only two hits and three walks.

Redwood tallied 10 hits, including two triples, three doubles and a homer.

Shortstop Weis, in addition to his "Maris," picked up two other hits for six times at the plate. The triple hitters were Steve Minutoli who got two for four, and Rich Jordon, one for three.

Pierce Shows Zip

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—There was good news today in the camp of the San Francisco Giants.

Veteran Billy Pierce, the stylish lefty obtained in trade from the Chicago White Sox this winter, turned in a dazzling drill yesterday.

Pierce's 189 major league wins testify that he has the goods when he is right. The Giants obtained him on the gamble that he had another year or two or good pitching left. Pierce was 10-9 last season.

Yesterday he faced the likes of Willie Mays, Willy McCovey Felipe Alou, Jimmy Davenport and Harvey Kuenn and looked like money in the bank.

Kuenn said Pierce appeared faster than when he used to face him in the American League. San Francisco scout Dutch Reuther added that Pierce appeared to be quicker than when he saw him in Buffalo in 1946.

Manager Alvin Dark said Pierce and Billy O'Dell would be his first two starting pitchers when the 28-game exhibition Cactus League season swings into action this weekend.

O'Dell will be followed Saturday by rookie Gaylord Perry and reliefer Stu Miller in the game against Cleveland at Tucson.

Pierce will be backed up by rookie Ron Herbel and Juan Marichal in the Sunday encore here.

An intrasquad game was scheduled today.

Big Don Larsen, who came over from the junior loop with Pierce, worked out yesterday again. He was loose and fast and showed no effects of the arm and shoulder bruises received when struck by McCovey's liner last Thursday.

Minn., Mich., Cal. Lead Way Into U.S. Curling Tourney

DETROIT (AP)—Teams from Minnesota, Michigan and California led the way today into the six-team round-robin that will decide the U.S. Men's National Curling Championship. Each had a 4-1 record through the five-game preliminaries.

Minnesota was bracketed with Wisconsin and Alaska, each of which had a 3-2 record in qualifying.

Pierce Shows Genuine Enthusiasm Toward First Year With Giants

HANLEY

PHOENIX — Billy Pierce will be 35 April 2, eight days before starting his first National League campaign after 14 seasons in the American League, one with Detroit in 1948, the last 13 with the White Sox.

Such a veteran campaigner as the Giants obtained last Nov. 30 in a multiple player winter deal might be excused if he did not display the exuberant enthusiasm of a rookie about the forthcoming baseball season.

Yet, the long-time southpaw star of the American League talks with genuine enthusiasm about his NL debut. There is an effervescent quality about Pierce's enthusiasm, a spontaneity that precludes any calculated effort on his part to give anything but honest answers to probing questions.

When he tells you "I was rooting for the Giants last August when they got hot and it looked like they might win the pennant," you have the feeling he really did root for the Giants and is not saying that now just because he is a Giant himself.

SIMILARLY, you sense his sincerity when he frankly admits "I don't know too much about this team yet but I'm glad to be with it because from everything I hear we should be a top contender."

When Jack Sanford ended his brief holdout and reported for duty the other day, Pierce asked a sports writer: "Is that Sanford?" Told it was, Pierce explained: "You see, I didn't meet many Giants along the way, being in the other league. Of course, I know Willie Mays from the All-Star games but everybody knows Willie."

PIERCE'S MENTION of the All-Star games prompted a logical inquiry seeking his opinion about Candlestick Park's wind since he saw it blow Stu Miller off the mound in last year's All-Star game.

Without recalling that he pitched 13 years in a windy city at Chicago, Pierce said: "From what I've seen of Candlestick it shouldn't be a disadvantage to a pitcher—at least not as far as the ball being hit is concerned.

As for the big belters he will face in the National League, the two-time 20-game winner of the A.L. replied: "It's hard to see how things can get much tougher than Maris and Mantle but I'll just have to wait and see."

Alvin Dark believes Pierce will have the initial advantage a pitcher always has in facing batters for the first time. "They don't know Pierce yet in this league," said Dark. It's just the opposite of Harvey Kuenn's problem last year. Harvey knows the N.L. pitchers better now."

DARK ALSO believes Pierce will be a steadying influence on the younger pitchers of the Giant mound staff in the same way that Sal Maglie "took the load off the younger fellows in 1954" by working key games in important series.

Pierce beamed when told of Dark's comments, saying "It's always good to know the manager has confidence in you because it bolsters your own confidence in yourself."

And is he confident?

"My arm feels great," he said and once again he flashed a big smile as someone wished him well, expressing the hope his arm wins at least 11 which would move him into the charmed circle of a 200-game winner.

Palmer (Who Else?) Favored In Pensacola Tournament

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A topnotch field tees off today in the $20,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament. And once more the fabulous Arnold Palmer is accorded the favorite's role by the galleries and a lot of the pros themselves.

"The fellow has everything," one pro said. "He can drive, his approach shots are perfection, and his putting—well, he can sink 'em."

Palmer himself wasn't too sure.

"I'm driving as well as I ever have in my life," the 32-year-old Pennsylvanian said, "but my chipping and putting still aren't too sharp."

He was named golfer of the year in 1960 when he broke the record for money winnings in one year with earnings of more than $75,000.

Best of the practice round scores reported yesterday was a 64 by Mason Rudolph over the 6,700-yard par 72 Pensacola Country Club course. The Clarksville, Tenn., pro's snappy round was featured by a hole in one on the par three, 170-yard seventh hole.

Another race was scored by John Paul Jones of Hinsdale, Ill., whose seven-iron shot dropped into the cup on the 160-yard par three 16th hole.

Palmer had a 67, as did Billy Maxwell. Bob Rosburg, runner-up in the last two tournaments, came in with a 68.

U.S. Skaters Ready To Go

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Three young American skaters leave for Prague tomorrow, seeking world ice skating honors that death denied the 1961 U.S. team.

Monty Hoyt, 17, Denver, Colo., and Jerry and Judianne Fotheringill of Tacoma, Wash., have been training five and six hours a day for weeks in preparation for the March 14-17 competitions.

Coach Carlo Fassi said their chances are good.

The 1961 U.S. team perished in a plane crash while flying to Prague for the championships. The crash at Brussels took 48 lives—17 team members and their relatives, coaches and aides. The world championships were canceled.

All world titles now are vacant. The skaters who won the -960 championships at Vancouver, Canada, have turned professional.

Celts, Warriors Put On Wild Show

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, and Bill Russell in particular, need no special incentive to get themselves up for a game with Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia Warriors.

But the combination of their own recent sloppy play and Chamberlain's fantastic scoring gathered itself into one bundle of fury last night. When the Celts and Russell were through, the tally showed a 153-102 Boston victory and a defensive show that limited Chamberlain to 30 points, his second lowest total of the season.

Coach Red Auerbach protested the ejection of Tommy Heinsohn late in the first half and referee Jim Duffy disposed of the coach as well. Heinsohn was thrown out of the game for fighting with the Warriors' Tom Meschery.

The Boston victory came in the second game of a Boston Garden doubleheader and moved the Celts within three wins of matching their record total of 59 in the 1959-60 NBA season.

Marinite Makes Fight Debute Tomorrow Night

Frank Gallardo of San Rafael —already well known to Marin Sports fans as a football player for San Rafael High School and now College of Marin and also as a competitive weightlifter—has been turning his talents to another sport.

For the last two months, the 19-year-old student has been preparing to compete in the San Francisco Golden Gloves boxing tournament. Gallardo has been working out at the MarVel Athletic Club in San Rafael and the Newman-Herman Gym in San Francisco, and will represent MarVel in the tournament.

Gallardo drew a bye for the first night, but is scheduled to battle Robert Cory of San Francisco in the semi-finals tomorrow night. Cory is 6-1, weighs 210. Gallardo is a little shorter, at 5-11, but will have a slight weight edge, as he tipped the Toledo's at 264 at the weighins.

The bout will be at Kezar Pavilion about 9 p.m. The tournament starts at 8 p.m. and Gallardo's will be the seventh bout. If he wins his match with Cory, he will box Harry Simon, a former San Francisco All-City basketball player, 6'3", 220 lbs., in the finals, for the championship of the novice heavyweight division. That bout will take place next Thursday in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

Gallardo has three coaches helping him. He started with Jack MacPhee of San Rafael, who enlisted the aid of Phil "PeeWee" Rubino and Al Citrino of San Francisco, well-known professional fight managers, to make sure that Frank would have the best possible training before his fights and top professional care in his corner during his bouts.

Based on his workouts in the ring at Newman's, their feeling is Gallardo looks good and should win his division, although they don't expect it to be any tea-party.

Both Cory and Simon have considerable reach over Frank, and are big and powerful men. Observers at Newman's who have watched the three heavyweights in workouts are eager to see them collide.

Red Devils Tie For S.R. League Title

Twelve-year-old Kevin Wilson, on a scoring spree the last two games, has led the Red Devils into a first place tie in the San Rafael Recreation Department's age 12 and under basketball league.

Wilson scored 22 points yesterday—more than the entire opposing team in leading the Red Devils to a 32-21 victory over Kent. In his previous game Wilson scored 24 points.

Same Old Story For Seals; Downed 7-1 By Buckaroos

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The San Francisco Seals get three days to figure out a better way to play hockey against Portland.

The Seals, gradually blowing any chance of gaining the Western Hockey League playoffs, bowed 7-1 to the Buckaroos last night. The teams meet here again Sunday.

San Francisco held Portland scoreless for the first period but fell behind 4-0 during the second 20 minutes. Bob Solinger slapped home the only Seal goal in the final period.

Los Angeles still holds a four-point lead over the Seals in their fight for third place in the league's Southern Division. Each team has won 23 games but the Blades have 34 losses and 6 ties to 38 losses and 2 ties for the Seals.

All-Far West Quint

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A hot-handed quintet that averages better than 99 points per game makes up the United Press International All-Far West basketball team for 1961-62.

Here are its members—Oregon State's Mel Counts, Southern California's John Rudometkin, Seattle's Eddie Miles, UCLA's John Green, and Arizona State's Larry Armstrong.

The 7-foot Counts, one of the most sought-after preps in recent years, has lived up to his press clippings now that he is playing with the big boys.

Counts averaged 18.6 points per game for the defensive minded Beavers, while leading Oregon State to 20 wins in its first 24 games and a spot in the NCAA regional tournament.

Rudometkin, a second team All-America pick last year, had a fine senior year, too. He has averaged 20.6 points per contest and broken all his school's scoring marks despite the fact that he is often double and triple teamed. He is not an outstanding defensive player, however.

Miles was another high-school hotshot in Arkansas who somehow gravitated to Seattle, as many basketball stars from all over seem to do. He has scored at a 22.2 point-per-game clip while leading Seattle to another NCAA at-large berth and an 18-8 record.

Green and Armstrong, who sparked two more NCAA-bound squads, earned the slight nod over the likes of Loyola's Jerry Grote, USF captain Bob Gaillard, Chris Appel of USC, Green's running-mate Walt Hazzard, and Bob Warlick of Pepperdine.

Green's deadeye shooting led the Bruins to their startling victory in the Big Five over heavily favored Southern California. Green averaged 20.3 points per game and is in a torrid race for Big Five scoring honors with Rudometkin and Washington's Bill Hanson. The winner will be decided this weekend.

Armstrong averaged 17.4 points per game, but was far more important as a play-maker. The stubby senior welded a group of big sophomores into a powerhouse outfit that won 23 of its first 26 games.

The second string team included Steve Gray of St. Mary's, Charlie Warren of Oregon, Hanson, Grote and Gaillard.

The third team includes Stanford's tall duo of John Windsor and Tom Dose, Loyola's Ed Bento, Appel and Hazzard.

Sicilian Directory? No, It's Lineup For Golf Carnevale

By GIMI GILMARTINI

An entry list that resembles a Sicilian phone directory was announced today by the Marin Golf Club for its second annual Italian Golf Carnevale to be played Sunday.

Approximately 175 golfers, far beyond the committee's expectations, will tee off in the annual 18 hole fun-fest, announced committee man Joe DeMaestri. "We expected around 120 to play," DeMaestri noted, "but we've been swamped with enthusiasm over this event."

Part of the tournament's appeal must be credited to the refreshment stands at strategic locations along the course, dispensing wine and beer for the thirsty players.

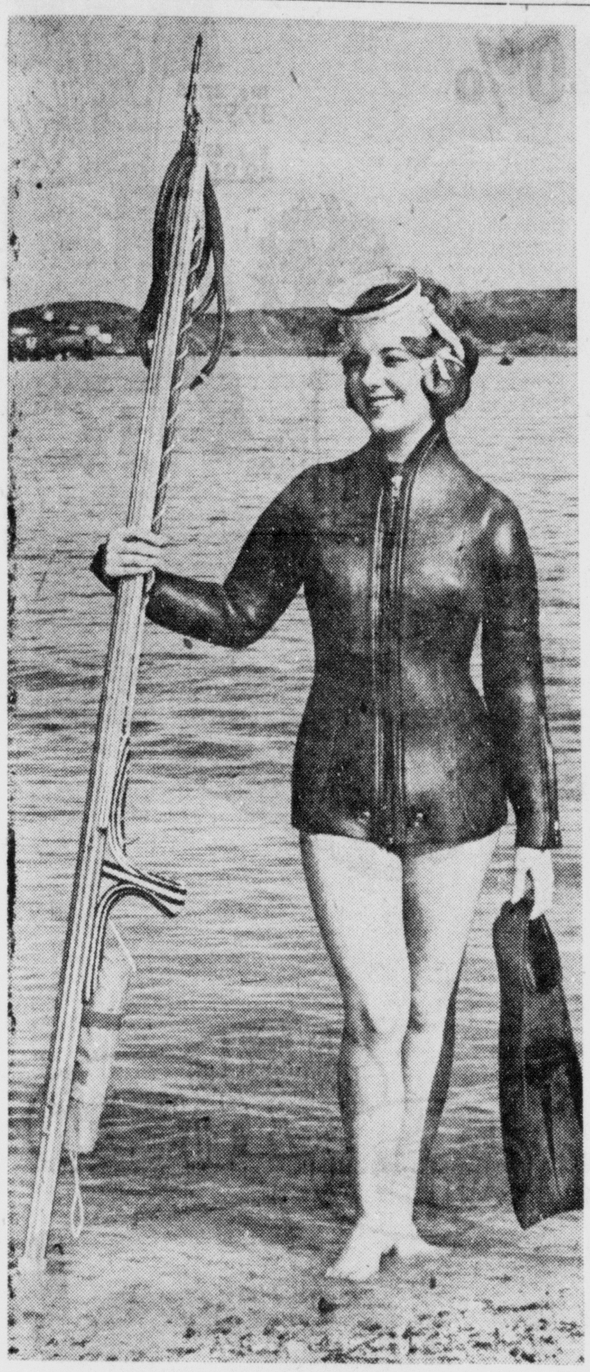

DeMaestri said more than $700 in merchandise prizes will be awarded at a dinner following the tournament. Competition will include two-man best ball teams, low net and low gross to individuals, best costumes and for a hole-in-one contest.

Most names on the entry list are disguised to fit in with the Italian theme, although a majority of the golfers are about as Italian as corned beef and cabbage. For example, Ricardo Stewartino is Dick Stewart, the TV personality; Gino Langorini is disc jockey Jim Lange of KSFO; Bud Fosterino is sportscaster Bud Foster; Arturo Schallockini is former Yankee pitcher Art Schallock; and Josepi DeMaestri is Joseph DeMaestri, the retired Yankee infielder, to name a few.

Defending champions of the two-man best ball prize are Roberto Nave and Raymond Amonini.

Following are starting times as announced by starter Al Sonntag:

Indians Can Relax, Now That Piersall's Gone

By SCOTT BAILLIE

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)— Tito Francona, Cleveland's serious outfielder, said today that the Indians will be a better team with Jim Piersall gone.

"This will be a better club now because we won't be distracted by the way Jim acted up," the line-drive belter from New Brighton, Pa., said while working up a new chaw of tobacco.

Volcanic Piersall, who sprayed center field with bug killer between innings of one game last season, was traded to the Washington Senators during October as part of a four-man swap.

"Don't get me wrong," Francona continued as he sat down beside his locker in the Indians' training quarters. "Piersall is a fine ballplayer. And he has the color that will help attendance in Washington. But I don't think that we needed that kind of a drawing card at Cleveland. We're pennant contenders and that should be enough to bring out the crowd."

Tito, who just boosted his average to .301 on the final day of the 1961 campaign, thinks that he often felt the wrath of umpires who had become riled at Piersall.

"It wasn't much fun to follow Jim in the batting order," Francona said. "He would get the umpires browned off and then I would get some bad calls as a result."

A natural southpaw, Francona thinks that he can hit just as well against left-handed hurlers as the righties, providing he gets to play every day.

"Just let me stay in the lineup and I will do all right against either kind," Francona said. "It's when I've been out of the batting order for a while that I have trouble with lefthanders."

John Patsy Francona — to give his complete name—is all ready to take over first base on a full time basis if Manager Mel McGaha starts moving the positions around. And the situation appears to be quite fluid now that Piersall has left a vacancy in center field.

Heavenly Valley Resumes 1962 Guest Slaloms

HEAVENLY VALLEY, South Tahoe — Resumption of the weekly Saturday guest slaloms was announced today by Chris Kuraisa and Bob Wood of the Heavenly Valley ski area.

"Since the highly-successful pro ski races on January 26-27-28, we've had an exceedingly busy race schedule this season," said Kuraisa and Wood. "The National Four-Way and Snowshoe Thompson races, plus last week's junior point race, have occupied the spotlight, and we had to withhold the guest slaloms.

"But they will start again on Saturday. Climax of the guest slalom program will come on Easter morning (April 22) when all winners of the weekly races will compete for Trophy," added the pair.

The race final is being named in honor of Ray Schwartz, well-known and popular newsman and public relations man who passed away last December. "Ray Schwartz handled all of our public relations since Heavenly Valley opened, and did a wonderful job in making the public conscious of our new area," said Kuraisa and Wood.

Nothing Else Doing? Why Not Get Trout Fishing Gear In Condition?

STEVENS

From the window of my office I can look up from my typewriter and see a robin redbreast perched on the bare limb of a tree in a neighbor's yard. They say a robin is a harbinger of spring. Maybe so, but I'm wondering if this particular bird hasn't got his dates mixed up. It sure doesn't feel like spring. They sky is a dirty gray color, the rain is slashing against my windows, and there isn't a sound, other than static, coming from my Halicrafter.

A few minutes ago my phone rang and a voice asked, dolefully, "What's a fellow goin' to do on a day like this when he wants to go fishing?"

LIKE I told him, I know what I'm going to do. When this column is written I'm going down in my cellar and get to work dolling up my trout-fishing gear. Clean and oil my reels, take my fly rods out and inspect them for tiny nicks in the guides that I know from experience can cut a line; I am going to stretch out my tapered lines and go over each one with line dressing, and test each line on each reel to find out if they are in fit condition. I know that all lines—silk, linen or nylon—have a tendency to weaken near the swivels. I will snap each of them between my hands. If they all go PLINK, I'll leave them alone, but if one or more of them go PLUNK, I'll know that it has died. I will then cut away a portion and test it again. I will continue doing this until each line will plink each time I snap it.

"THAT'S FINE!" said my caller, "but I've already done that, now I have to just mark time until April 28, when the season opens."

That's okay if he waits for the general trout season to open, but if he is willing to fish only with artificial flies and is content to limit his catch to three trout 10 inches long or over, he can get in some good practice and maybe enough trout for a good meal by fishing Putah Creek between the Solano Lake Dam and the Monticello Dam right now and until the general trout opening on April 28 when the limit will be the same all over.

FRANKLY, I didn't tell my caller all that; I merely suggested that he pick up a 1962 sport fishing booklet at his favorite bait or sporting goods store and read it carefully. There have been some changes made in the sport fishing regulations. Every new or experienced angler should read the regulations.

Local Flyers Should Welcome Joint Use Of Hamilton Strip

Joint county and military use of an air strip at Hamilton Air Force Base or a parallel strip to the east with CAA control to solve Marin's airport problem will very likely find hearty favor among local civilian flyers.

As one airplane owner put it, "We have long wished some arrangement like this could be worked out, but never thought Hamilton would go for it. Small planes without radios might be eliminated but there are fewer of them all the time. The joint operation with the revenue brought in by civilian use might even be the means of assuring the continued existence of Hamilton as an Air Force base."

LEO H. STRAUSS of San Rafael, who disassociated himself from American Building Maintenance Co. in San Francisco as its vice president and general manager and started his own company, Building Service Corp., has now merged it with Allied Maintenance Corp. of New York. He serves the firm as senior vice president and general manager.

Strauss is also president of the new Allied Maintenance Service Corp. established in California. The main office and central base for all Allied operations west of the Mississippi River will be in San Francisco.

Allied originated in 1885 and adopted the slogan of "Minding Other People's Business." It provides every maintenance and operation service from cleaning windows and streets to checking jet engines, airline refueling, supplying elevator operators, ball park ushers and bank guards.

It is already servicing several Marin County business firms.

A DRIVE-A-TOUR program by Hallmark Tours of San Rafael for persons driving to the Seattle's World Fair is calculated to eliminate accommodation worries.

Hallmark has put out a package which goes into action the moment the motorist arrives in Seattle. Accommodations for three nights, three admission tickets, a round trip monorail ticket and complete land-sea tour of the city are included. Participants determine the class of room they want, ranging from economy to de luxe.

BUSINESS BRIEFS. Fred Enemark of Marin County Savings and Loan has been appointed to the civic development committee of the United States Savings and Loan League which is concerned with fighting urban blight . . . Hank's Wilshire Service Station in San Anselmo is now an independently operated Wilshire station—no longer part of the Gasoline Marketers group.

AUTO PRODUCTION: In 1961, for the second time in four years, more passenger cars and commercial vehicles were manufactured outside the U. S. than inside, reports Automobile International. Even so, U. S. production was 47.1 per cent of the world total.

Other leading countries in overall production were Germany, United Kingdom, France and Japan. Japan has jumped ahead significantly to fifth place.

PG&E Gets Word On A-Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State Fish and Game Commission yesterday declared its conditions for the construction of an atomic-powered electric plant at Bodega Head.

Department officials testified at the opening session of a two-day State Public Utilities Commission hearing on a request by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to build a 64 million dollar plant at the site.

Fish and game officials said PG&E must study plant and animal life in the area for two years before starting construction of the plant on the southwest Sonoma County coast. They also insisted on free access to public lands and said the company must continuously monitor radioactivity in the area.

If any hazard is posed to wildlife, the state would reserve the right to require changes in the plant, the department officials said.

Practically all exhibits at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair will be admission free.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

All Babies Are Self-Centered And Need Security, Comfort

"Our baby is very selfish," a father writes, "and it worries me. My wife is nursing him. Her nipples are sore. The baby doesn't care. He chews at them until she cries. My wife is tired at night and needs her sleep. But when she is the tiredest he cries loudest. I try to comfort him, and he'll have none of me. He is five weeks old. I thought there was a mystic tie between a mother and her baby. I thought they always worked together. Is something wrong with our son?" F.L.N

Almost certainly nothing is wrong. He is normal. All babies are self-centered. In a sense they are very selfish. They're concerned solely with themselves and their struggle to survive. Babies are helpless. They are born in fear and pain. They seem to know that the first few months of life are risky. Their mothers give them security, safety, love, food, companionship and comfort. Of course they turn to them; they have to.

Your wife needs help. Get her to ask her doctor about her nipples. There are salves which might heal them. You should do as many jobs around home as you can. Your son will get used to you. You can give him his water and orange juice. You can change him. You can do the laundry, and help with the housework. When your baby cries, try to find the reason. If he cries more than you think he should, take him to your doctor. Perhaps he can find the cause of his distress.

Play with your son. Cuddle him. Sing to him. Enjoy him. You'll soon understand him. Then his selfishness won't bother you a bit.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it possible to spoil a tiny baby?" Mrs. A.S.

(A) No. Tiny babies can't learn enough to be spoiled permanently. Babies who are indulged learn that they are safe or "secure" in the world. It is an important lesson. After they outgrow infancy they can be spoiled, easily.

Teacher Says Don't Force Piano Study

NEW YORK (AP) — They're never too young to start studying music—if they have real talent.

But for heaven's sakes, don't force them.

That's the advice a veteran piano teacher named Adele Marcus gives parents who fancy they have minuscule Mozarts in the nursery at home.

Miss Marcus of the Juilliard School of Music, who has taught hundreds of students—including Byron Janis—in the last 23 years, explains:

"I don't think foisting lessons upon all children is advisable. The proper age for lessons to start is the age of interest."

She does, however, believe in music, if not in music lessons, for all children. "Play good music on the radio or records," she says, "primarily when the child is quiet.

"But don't start his taking music lessons before he can sit still for half an hour. And don't force him into lessons if he absolutely rebels."

If exceptional inclination toward music is present, Miss Marcus says, the parents will probably know it when their offspring is very young. "The child may sing excerpts from arias at the age of five or correct his sister's piano lesson from his little crib.

"Of course these things do not happen with every child, but if it's a big talent the musicality shows through."

Miss Marcus suggests that a parent who suspects musical talent is showing through measure the youngster against two standards:

1. The child has the ability to absorb and retain. He recognizes the music he has heard before and may be able to reproduce it.

2. He responds emotionally to the music. He may cry because he is touched by music, or he may quickly get into the mood of the music — become very stimulated by heroic music, for example.

Miss Marcus' husband, opera coach Fritz Kitzinger, died in 1947. She lives alone in a New York penthouse apartment.

A child prodigy herself, she had a musical father and nonmusical but sensitive mother, and that's why she understands the problems.

She advises parents: Don't go to an extreme.

"Don't be the pushing, frustrated parent who sees himself performing through his child," she says. "And don't be the parent whose child has real musical talent, yet still says, 'No music lessons, you're going to be a businessman.'

"Almost every parent says, 'I want my child to be happy,' and what some of them are really saying is, 'I want my child to be happy in the way I want him to be happy.'

"I speak freely because I'm not a parent. But it would seem to me the best thing to do is to allow the child to do what he wants to do, where his ultimate happiness is concerned."

CAREER OUTLOOK

Homemaker-Job Conflicts Are Affected By Attitude

(Fourth in a series of six articles on career opportunities and job problems for women.)

Many of the girls growing up today are aware of the traditional arguments concerning the conflict of roles between that of wife and mother and that of the woman holding down a job or pursuing a career.

And because most women plan on marriage and homemaking as their goal, they too often do not make definite, practical career plans, despite the prediction of the U.S. Department of Labor that most women will work about 25 years. Many of those years are expected to be after their children are grown.

Despite the recent gains women have made in the occupational fields, many persons still will argue that a woman's place is in the home, and others will argue that certain jobs in technical fields tend to make women less feminine.

Yet sociologists who have studied such charges say that early home experiences, training and attitudes of the woman herself are what affect her femininity not whether she takes advanced mathematics and goes into computing work.

WHEN FAVORED

They say that evidence shows that women can successfully combine family responsibilities with an outside job. A study by Dr. Mildred Weil of New York University showed that a woman was more likely to combine marriage and career successfully when the attitudes of her husband, family and community were favorable to her working, when all her children were of school age, when her husband took some responsibility for family duties, and when she had education at the professional level or specialized training.

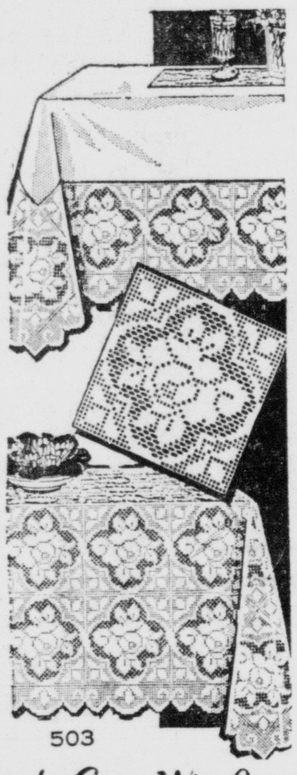

Anthropologist Margaret Mead has said that women's main ambition today is to find and keep a mate and to have children who are doted upon exclusively, leaving work outside the home, teaching, nursing, office and technical jobs, subservient to the demands of an individual household. Dr. Mead has no quarrel with the family unit but deplores the fact that women are not seen and do not see themselves as individuals with special capabilities for great contributions outside the family unit as well as within it. She believes that all children, not just her own, should be a woman's concern.

FOR TYPING

She says that girls are encouraged to study typing rather than science and when their children are grown, look for other interest in a hobby or some other form of self fulfillment rather than activities that contribute to the world beyond her community island. Or, she says, mothers of small children often bury themselves in community "busywork" rather than developing their potentials for a more lasting, wider reaching form of service. Again, Dr. Mead agrees that the responsibility for developing her full potential lies with each woman herself and with the climate of opinion in the community around her, and she urges mothers of young girls to see that they are encouraged to receive substantial education toward careers and encouraged to make use of it.

Tomorrow: Educational lacks.

Peanut Butter Grade Standards Are Revised

A revision of the grade standards for peanut butter, effective March 23, has been announced by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

This issue of standards will supersede those which have been in effect since September 1942.

The revision provides new color standards to promote easire, more accurate classification of the various shades of color in peanut butter. Plastic comparators for the four colors cited in the grade standards will be available for sale to interested persons.

The revised standards also provide for both a non-stabilized type of peanut butter and for a stabilized type which is prepared by special process or by adding ingredients.

The grade names above Substandard remain the same as they have been— U.S. Grade A (or U.S. Fancy) and U.S. Grade C (or U.S. Standard).

The revised standards set a minimum score of 90 points total for Grade A, and 80 points for Grade C; this change does not affect allowances for the various scoring factors, nor change the grade designations.

In each of these two grades, lower and upper limits for salt content have been provided. In addition, a new scoring factor of "consistency" has been added.

Jacqueline To Overnight In Rome On Junket To India, Pakistan

By SHEILA WALSH

ROME (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will spend a night and a part of her two days in Rome this weekend as a guest in the U. S. Ambassador's 16th century Villa Taverna before she goes on to India and Pakistan.

This is the same residence where Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce became violently ill from arsenic poisoning when she was ambassador in 1955. The poisoning developed from paint dust that fell into Mrs. Luce's coffee over a period of time.

But the villa—and the bedroom where the offending paint was present — has been done over completely, so that President Kennedy's wife will be in no danger.

Mrs. Kennedy will be staying in an arsenic-free atmosphere as the guest of U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. G. Frederick Reinhardt.

The villa, particularly the one bedroom, was hastily redecorated in non-arsenical paint after Mrs. Luce became ill.

No repetition is expected with any present or future ambassador or guest, including the First Lady, embassy officials said.

Mrs. Kennedy will not be sleeping in the same room used by Mrs. Luce.

She and her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, will stay in a four-room, second floor guest suite.

The walls of Mrs. Kennedy's room are light gray and the color scheme is blue and white. From her window she will have a view of the orange and oak trees in the garden.

In a ground floor sitting room, Mrs. Kennedy will find a portrait of another First Lady painted by her presidential husband. The portrait of Louisa Adams by President John Quincy Adams is more of historical than artistic interest. But some wags here are already predicting it will end up in Mrs. Kennedy's White House collection of Americana.

The Roman aristocracy has ben planning parties and hoping that Mrs. Kennedy will come.

One newspaper said that count Dino Pecci-Blount was holding a "twist" party for the First Lady. The count's secretary said a party was planned, but he said nothing about twisting.

U.S. Embassy sources said they did not know what if any invitations would be accepted by the First Lady in Rome.

A tea party is officially the only social engagement on the First Lady's Roman agenda so far. She will take tea with Italy's President Giovanni Gronchi and his wife at the Quirinal Palace on the afternoon of her arrival Saturday.

The only other definite engagement announced for Mrs. Kennedy's 34 hour Rome stay is an audience with Pope John XXIII. She will be received by the pontiff on Sunday morning, March 11.

She will be the third member of the Kennedy family to see the pope in less than three weeks. Pope John received Attorney General Robert Kennedy and his wife on Feb. 21.

The President's wife may have to dodge buzzing motor scooters like everyone else in Rome.

Mrs. Kennedy will leave here Sunday night for New Delhi, India, aboard a chartered jet airliner. She will be attended, among others, by four sari-clad hostesses.

Mix dressing in lightly before eating.

Young Heiress Takes Job As Charwoman

LONDON (UPI)— An 18-year-old British heiress, who claims she will inherit a fortune from the Marshall Field estate, has taken a charwoman's job because she says she gets bored in her luxury apartment.

Sibylla Edmonstone left her $560-a-month apartment Tuesday and took a taxi to the home of Mrs. H. V. Brandon, a mother of five. Miss Edmonstone gets paid 50 cents an hour as a charwoman.

"I went into this because I like caring for children and because I can't do anything like this at home, so I'm charring," the beautiful debutante said.

Miss Edmonstone, who last night did what few charwomen can afford to do—dine out—said the money wasn't important.

"When I am 21, I will inherit a fortune from my great-grandfather, Marshall Field," she said. Field was a Chicago department store tycoon.

Miss Edmonstone, perhaps the world's richest charwoman, said she was "quite prepared" to do a little scrubbing. "A lot of hard work never hurt anybody," she said. "I don't have much experience scrubbing floors, but I can always learn."

Miss Edmonstone's duties include housework in the morning and caring for the children in the afternoon.

Her employer said she was satisfied by Miss Edmonstone's work the first day.

"I don't mind her being a millionairess," said Mrs. Brandon, who hired the debutante through an employment agency.

Miss Edmonstone's new job did not make her brother too happy.

Sir Archibald Edmonstone, 27, laird of Duntreath castle in Scotland, was quoted as saying: "I understand she is looking after children but charring would certainly not be the sort of job I would expect her to do, considering her background. But she is old enough to look after herself."

Diet, Cream, Buffing Gives Strength To Brittle Nails

By NANCY TAYLOR

"My nails are very brittle and break easily. Nothing I've tried seems to help."

Dear Mrs. H. V.

First of all, do check your diet to make sure it includes some of the following foods eac hday: citrus fruits, milk, liver, broccoli, cauliflower, celery, nuts, grapes and honey. Unflavored gelatine dissolved in water or fruit juice, taken daily, also has been found to strengthen brittle nals. Be sure to use a nail cream every night, massaging it well into the cuticle to help stimulate the matrix, where the nail cells form. Use a colorless base coat under your nail polish. Or, if you do not wear nail polish, use a chamois-covered buffer and buff your nails each night with a powder or paste polish.

"My lips stay very dry and rough. What will help them?"

Miss E. S.

Dear Miss E.S.

Very dry, rough lips may be caused by the lipstick you wear or, oddly enough, by the temperature of the things you eat or drink. Do you drink coffee or soup scalding hot? If so, try letting them cool off somewhat to keep from literally "cooking" the delicate lip membranes. See that your lipstick is of the creamy type rather than one too indelible.

Tamalpais Nursery School To View Research Film

Members of the Tamalpais Nursery School in Mill Valley will see the filmed report on the study of surrogate mothers and infant monkeys at Monday night's meeting, which will be open to the public.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the school which is located in the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley on Miller Avenue.

The study being carried out at the University of Wisconsin has provoked serious and humorous comments in Congress and newspapers. Dr. David Allen, assistant clinical professor at the University of California Medical School and consultant at the Langley-Porter Psychiatric Clinic, will comment on the implications of the research.

Since the film is not easily available, parents are being urged to take advantage of the opportunity to see it.

Mrs. Joseph Bare Jr., chairman of the board, will preside at the meeting during which a nominating committee will present a slate of officers composed of Mesdames Bare, Gordon Cless, Harry Marks, William Obata, John Preisinger and Mrs. Michael Wornum.

Davidson School P-TA Will Award Life Memberships

Davidson School Parent-Teacher Assn. will award its honorary life memberships at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the school in San Rafael.

The original meeting was cancelled because of bad weather. Other program features will be a talk, "Fun with Clothes and Color," by Miss Helen Spindt, homemaking teacher at San Rafael High School. The talk will include good grooming and appropriate dress for the junior high school girl.

George Wolfman, head baseball coach at the University of California, will be the speaker for the fathers and sons group.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, March 8, the 67th day of the year with 298 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1864, Ulysses S. Grant, about to head all the Union armies, arrived in Washington for the first time.

In 1917, riots and strikes in St. Petersburg marked the beginning of the Russian Revolution.

In 1823, a poll of 14,000 French women reported that outside of France they would prefer American husbands to any other nationality.

In 1953, the U.S. Census Bureau revealed that in two years' time the nation's farmers decreased by about 239,000.

A thought for the day: Gen. U. S. Grant said: "Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men disgrace labor."

GOP Hurt Own Candidate By Endorsement In Secret

The endorsing convention of Republicans in the First Congressional District have done a disservice to their candidate and to the cause of free and open government.

The First Congressional District Republican Committee is an unofficial agency of the Republican Party made up of delegates from Republican organizations in the six counties of the district.

It met in Ukiah Saturday to endorse a Republican candidate for Congress. And it met in secret.

All persons who were not official delegates to the meeting were ejected when it came time to discuss the candidates and ballot for the endorsement.

There doesn't seem to us a worse way to launch a candidate than under a cloud of secrecy. But the committee found one.

Not only did they prevent the voting public from knowing what went on in that endorsing session, what deals were made, what arguments advanced. They didn't even announce by what vote the candidate had been endorsed.

For years we on the Independent-Journal have been fighting this childish "don't hurt the losers" attitude in high school elections. Now a supposedly responsible political party organization comes along with the same pap to hand out to the voting public.

If the voters of the First Congressional District are not to be trusted with the true facts and all the facts about the candidates, certainly they must become concerned.

This is the second time this year Republicans of the First District have closed their meetings. At the Young Republican convention in Disneyland, the First District caucus closed its doors when it interviewed candidates.

We are sure that none of the five aspirants who appeared before the Ukiah convention had anything to do with the secrecy; they weren't even in the room when it was unanimously voted.

We are also sure that such an endorsement will harm Candidate Clausen's chances almost as much as it will help them.

In using their party names in pre-primary endorsing procedures, both Republicans and Democrats are attempting to by-pass California's direct primary system and to hand-pick an "officially endorsed" candidate.

By doing it in secret in Ukiah (at the same time other Republicans were doing it very much in public in Berkeley), First District Republicans harmed their party, their candidate and the republican form of government.

Nature's Magic Mardi Gras

In the words of the song, Spring is busting out all over Marin County now.

Heralded by the yellow torch of the acacia, our season of joy is upon us with a series of floral explosions as vivid as those of a string of giant firecrackers.

The ornamental fruit trees are pink and white puffs of bloom, along with the pink cups of the tulip tree. Waxen camellias, sweet-scented daphne, yellow daffodils and forsythia, the dewey-eyed, smiling, multi-colored faces of pansies—all are coming or going.

It is Nature's magic Mardi Gras.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

It's Tough To Follow A Blonde Especially When She Boo-Boos

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A former Marinite, Harry Walters, now assistant district attorney of Nevada County, had a tough act to follow Sunday at the California Republican Assembly endorsing convention. Walters, one-time deputy Marin DA, was to second the nomination of Joseph Shell for CRA's gubernatorial endorsement.

Preceding him was a cute blonde, Liz Craig of Costa Mesa. She started out by saying: "You all know how I feel about Joe Shell, so I'm not going into that. Instead, I'm going to tell you about an experience we had Saturday night . . ."

The audience burst into roars of laughter and shouts of glee. She was stunned at first, then turned crimson and hid her face in her hands. We doubt that many of the audience heard that the "experience" had to do with the number of volunteers at the newly opened Costa Mesa Shell headquarters.

Walters had the audience in good humor, but not inclined to listen.

A MARIN SHELL headquarters is scheduled to open next Tuesday at 918 A Street, San Rafael.

Shell Chairman William O. Weissich has named Harry Butterworth, San Rafael wholesaler, as county finance chairman.

Newly appointed community leaders are Alfred W. Bowman in Novato, Mrs. Thomas H. Larke Jr., in Fairfax, and Mrs. A. S. Cowie in Corte Madera.

THE U. S. TREASURER, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Smith of Kent Woodlands, arrived in Marin last weekend, but she didn't keep her appointment to speak at a Democratic training school in San Francisco.

Not only that, she's also cancelled all her engagements for a week or so.

The reason is that she is suffering from a "vigorous virus" which has clung with her in Washington and elsewhere for several weeks. She's trying to shake it off here and even cancelled long-planned trips to the snow.

She must be really sick!

ANNOUNCEMENT yesterday that Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of La Canada schools, Los Angeles County, would be a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction surprised no one.

It was suspected he was a candidate as long ago as December when he visited Marin and made a speech to school administrators. He got $75 as a consultant for that speech.

It's over that "unauthorized" check that Schools Supt. Virgil Hollis may have to dig down in his own pocket and repay the county.

Rafferty makes five candidates announced as in the race.. Only one of them, Charles M. Berlese of Sacramento, hasn't checked in in Marin as yet. The others, Dr. Wallace W. Hall of Belvedere, Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty of San Diego, and Dr. Ralph Richardson of Los Angeles, all have been here at least once and several of them several times.

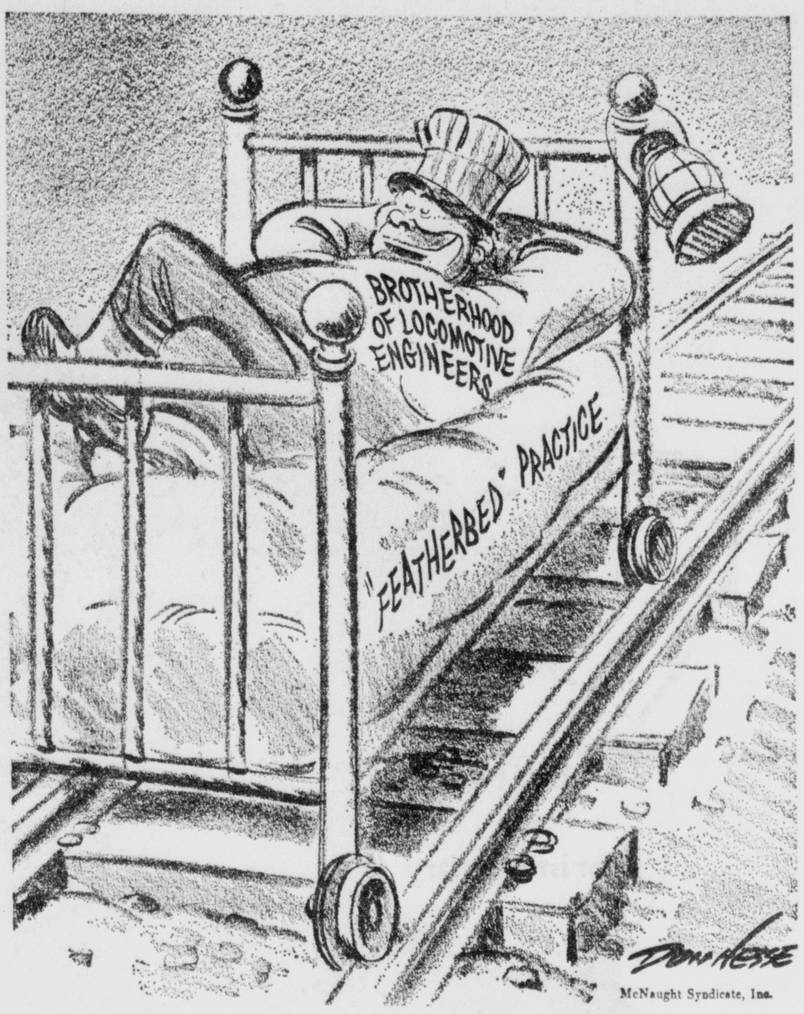

We'll hear more of them before we hear less.

A Problem With Brown Bread

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Yesterday my wife decided to bake a real old-fashioned New England brown bread. Inadvertently, my do-it-yourself plan for a new bathtub became attached to her recipe—so you can imagine the size of the brown bread when it was done.

With so much brown bread on hand, I thought it would be democratic to share it with some deserving family that really appreciated New England cooking. A logical choice was President Kennedy and his family.

I understood that Western Union was now offering a special rate of 75 cents plus 8 cents tax for a telegram up to 15 words sent to the president or members of Congress. In calling Western Union, however, I was informed that this rate didn't apply to social messages, such has birthday congratulations or invitations to brown bread eating orgies.

Disappointed, but not dismayed, I composed the following 15-word telegram to the president, as follows:

ATMOSPHERIC TESTS POISON HEIR. FURTHER DETAILS ARE ENTRAILS. TWO-HEADED KIDS TOO NOISY. PLEASE STOP.

Anyone else care to take advantage of that 75-cent bargain? It won't help you to get rid of a bathtub full of brown bread, but it might give you more time to enjoy it.

ED STONE.
Marinwood.

Study Needed On Marineland

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The proposal for a Marineland near Mill Valley carries all sorts of possibilities. If the project is approved and set going, the management will want to innovate.

Suppose they eventually want to install a tank of Brazilian paranha fish? While these fish like to eat people, they will settle for horses, dogs, cats and rodents.

With a bit of adroit promotion, the management could get the Mill Valley City Council to institute an annual "Festival of the Paranhas," when all of the citizens would take to the streets and byways, netting-up dogs, cats and occasional stray horses or hamsters.

After all the animals had been gathered on the Square, the March of the Paranhas begins eastward, each citizen towing an animal. There will be free admission for everyone with a live tow, this day at Marineland. The marchers are led by the Guckenheimer Paranha Band. A gigantic banner floats above their heads, inscribed, 'Take a Paranha Some Lunch Today."

The first Festival of the Paranhas is so successful it becomes a sem-annual, then a quarterly event. Subtle changes begin to take place over the county. A FOTP is held in San Rafael and the Humane Society closes and padlocks its doors; a Festival is tried in Novato and the Novato Mounted Posse begins walking.

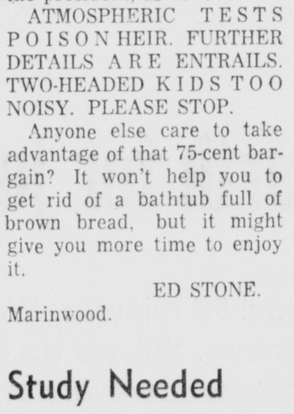

The county is very quiet now. Postmen make their appointed rounds in half the time; garbagemen put on weight with no dogs to exercise them. The pink-cheeked paranhas are now the largest in the world—a major attraction at a thriving Marineland.

Then, at nearly the last festival, only one small hamster can be produced. The Marineland management is obviously upset and the celebrants are uneasy. "Where do we go from here?" they start asking each other. No one is willing to give an answer.

One can see that the Marineland proposal is filled with all kinds of possibilities, some of which bear consideration before final action is taken.

Meet Communist In Hoover's Book

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am sure that most readers were either amused or disgusted with the nonsensical letter by Mrs. Janet Lee Klain, "Like to Meet U. S. Communist," in the March 2 issue of the I-J.

Just in case a few misinformed people were taken in by her inane remarks, I would like to quote a few passages from J. Edgar Hoover's report entitled "Communist Party, USA" in the April 30, 1960 issue of "Ave Maria."

In emphasizing the real danger of the Communist Party, USA, Mr. Hoover said, "It is only when we realize the domestic Communist Party is an instrument wielded from without our national boundaries that we begin to grasp the threat that it poses. The word, 'instrument,' is in fact a fitting one in comparing the Party of the recent past with the Party of the present. Then membership was at an all-time high. Now the disenchanted and spiritually uncommitted have been sloughed off. What is left is a hard core instrument dedicated to the destruction of our individual freedoms . . ."

Mr. Hoover then quotes Lenin's chilling prophecy: ". . . As long as capitalism and socialism exist, we cannot live in peace: in the end, one or the other will triumph—a funeral dirge will be sung over the Soviet Republic or over world capitalism . . ."

Mr. Hoover then points out that "Lenin's philosophy, encompassing the use of deceit and duplicity to achieve the ends of communism, has not been rejected. On the contrary, current leaders reiterate their undeviating adherence to the course of action outlined by Lenin."

Anyone sincerely interested in "seeing a U. S. communist" should read J. Edgar Hoover's informative book, "Master of Deceit."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

What the wife of a practical joker has to put up with: Mrs. Cousins took quite a while to answer a phone call from her husband, then explained: "You got me out of the tub. I'm dripping wet."

Cousins hung up, then had a business associate redial the number a minute later. Mrs. Cousins, who barely had had time to climb back into the tub, answered with an annoyed, "Who's calling now?"

"It's Jack," announced the associate. "Is Norman—Say, look at you, and soaking wet, too!"

There was a scream from the other end of the line, then a loud click.

Nine-year-old Peter came home from dancing school to announce that every girl in the class was a clumsy cow. "All they can do," he explained with disgust, "is dance backwards."

Educators Never Say It Simply If There's Obscure Way Possible

As everyone knows, our schools are administered and taught by Educators. My proposal is that Educators be forbidden by law to write their own reports. Instead, non-Educators should be hired to digest the Educators' messages, then translate them into basic English.

The result will be two-fold: Not only will the use of paper be sharply reduced; those forced to read the reports may comprehend them.

An example of the gibberish known as Educatorese is this 39-word sentence from a curriculum report:

"READING EXPERIENCE of a horizontal nature usually promotes maximum growth in vocabulary comprehension, therefore, it is important that children become acquainted with a rich variety of reading materials on their own grade level before moving on to the next."

Translated, at a saving of 25 words, this means: For greater word understanding, pupils should grasp each grade level of reading before moving on.

From a "staff satisfaction" report comes this 43-word sentence which, if handed in by a freshman English student, would richly deserve a flunking grade:

"THE REAL PURPOSE of this survey is to assist school district officials to identify trouble spots in staff attitudes that need attention, and to develop sound practices in personnel administration and staff relationships which will contribute to the attainment of maximum educational effectiveness."

Translation (15 words): This survey is to aid officials in locating weak personnel relationships and creating sound administrative practices.

From a report on parent-teacher conferences: "Each teacher has certain outcomes in mind when he goes into a conference. The parent likewise has some expectancies. These may be modified during the conference." (27 words).

Translation: Preconceived notions of parents and teachers may change during conferences. (Nine words).

EDUCATORS NOT only go to pieces when writing so-called "educational" material. The simplest statement becomes obscure in their hands, as this item from an annual report: "This publication is in the process of being printed at this time, and will be ready for distribution in January, 1962." (21 words).

Meaning: Printing of this publication will be completed in January, 1962. (10 words).

For utter illiteracy, defying translation, I offer this 75-word sentence of Sanskrit from the same annual report:

"Beginning prior to the opening of school in the fall and continuing throughout the academic year, the general consultant, in cooperation with the assistant superintendent, educational services, and all participating school districts, coordinates a series of meetings in which school personnel study developments in curriculum, instruction, pupil guidance, educational equipment and materials, tests and evaluation, reporting pupil progress, patterns of classroom organization, civil defense, problems in the implementation of new school legislation and many more."

THERE IS, however, hope. Even if my suggestion is not followed. From a parent-teacher report I note a hint of recognition of the problem on the part of Educators:

"Sometimes, quite unconsciously, our role as teacher, the importer of knowledge, the instructor, the teller, can pervade all of our relationships and we tend to treat everyone as children."

Too Late For Test Ban Agreement Unless There's Major Breakthrough

WASHINGTON—Since the middle 50's we have all supposed, and this included the Soviets, that the easiest and simplest of the steps toward better relations would be a treaty to ban nuclear testing. This is no longer the case.

On the contrary, it must now be said that on a test ban the deadlock is complete, and without some kind of scientific or diplomatic breakthrough the issue is not at present negotiable.

THIS IS A bitter conclusion to have to come to. But the controversy has evolved to the point where a treaty is possible only if one side is willing to concede nuclear superiority to the other and to accept nuclear inferiority for itself.

If the Soviet Union would agree to the treaty we are demanding, it would have to accept as permanent, enforced by inspection, the existing American superiority in nuclear power. The Soviet Union would have to give up the attempts to overtake us.

And if we were to accept the kind of treaty the Soviet Union is proposing, we would have to accept the risk that they could prepare in secret to overtake us while we could not prepare to keep ahead of them.

THE DEADLOCK has developed over the fact that neither of the two governments will trust the other with nuclear superiority; neither believes it can be secure unless it has nuclear superiority.

As it is impossible for both sides to be superior, a treaty would be negotiable only if there were an equality which both sides believed was real and lasting. We are a long way from that theoretical situation. The nuclear art is young and new and this development is as yet not only unrealized, but not predictable.

THUS THE RACE goes on, and we ask ourselves whether it can ever be brought to an end. To answer that question, we must enter the field of speculation.

If we say that the race will end when there is nuclear equality which both sides can accept, then it may be that this condition would exist if both sides invented and discovered an effective anti-missile defense. The prevailing scientific opinion is that this is improbable if not impossible and it would, of course, be a spectacular breakthrough.

A WORKABLE equality might also prevail if each side were able to construct an invulnerable retaliatory or second strike force, one which would survive any kind of pre-emptive attack.

It is also conceivable that some time in the future there will be a diplomatic breakthrough which would stabilize Germany and the whole of Europe to the Urals and beyond. Nothing like that is now in sight, but it would be a mistake to say that it is inconceivable.

We know from history that ideological and religious wars usually end not in victory and defeat, but in stalemate and deflation and disintoxication, and that could happen again.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the king of hearts, drew three rounds of trumps, and then led a club to finesse with dummy's ten. He was delighted when this produced the ace of clubs from the East hand.

East returned a far-sighted deuce of diamonds, and West's king forced dummy's ace. Now South could hardly wait to ruff a diamond so that he could lead another club toward dummy.

STEPS UP: West stepped up with the king of clubs and led another diamond, forcing South to use up his last trump. Now declarer could win a trick with dummy's precious queen of clubs, but this gave him only nine tricks—five trumps, two hearts, one diamond and one club.

Just imagine that dummy had started with three tiny clubs instead of three clubs headed by the queen-ten. South couldn't have gone wrong!

With this holding, South would automatically lead a low club from dummy at the second trick. He would expect to give up three clubs and take the rest. If necessary, he would ruff a club in dummy with the nine of spades.

Even as the play went, South could have made his contract if he hadn't ruffed a diamond to lead a second club toward dummy. He could have led the queen of clubs to force out the king. South would ruff the diamond return and lead the nine of clubs to knock out the jack. Then declarer could win the rest with his last trump and two good clubs.

The important point was that South couldn't afford to waste his trumps to lead toward dummy. That was a way to get only one club trick instead of two.

Brown, Miller Aides Named For County

Appointments were announced yesterday of Marin County chairmen of campaigns to re-elect Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Rep. Clem Miller.

Robert L. Harmon of Belvedere, an attorney practicing in San Francisco, heads the group for Brown. He said Marin residents especially support the Brown leadership in education with "stress on solid academic subjects instead of educational frills" and a master plan for higher education.

Samuel W. Gardiner, San Rafael attorney, will head the Marin group backing Miller. He paid Miller's filing fee and obtained nomination papers today at the county clerk's office.

Gardiner said Miller has been "a hard-working representative for the large and diversified Redwood Empire."

IT'S A HOG'S LIFE

No more lolling around in the pig sty for these hogs. In an effort to solve the housewife's dilemma of gristly hams and fat pork roasts that almost disappear during cooking, agricultural engineers of the Animal Husbandry Department, University of California's Davis campus, are making these hogs stand on their hind legs to reach their food. The idea is to increase the size of ham and loin thus increasing the proportion of lean meat.

Missile-Space Firm Official Pleads For Use Of Metric System In U.S.

I.-J. Special Report

SAN JOSE—The U.S. must switch over to the metric system in the near future for urgent national security reasons, both military and economic.

An official of a major missile-space firm threw the weight of his organization behind the metric system for the U.S. before a statewide gathering of weights and measures executives here recently.

This is believed to be the first such statement in support of metric measurements from a major U.S. maker of industrial hardware — the category of business which would be hardest hit by such a change and the group which has traditionally opposed it.

"Our medieval measurement system is a majoring stumbling block for the United States in today's highly competitive space age. It handicaps us in both military and economic competition," said D. J. Murphy, assistant general manager of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co.'s General Services Division.

The Lockheed executive said that the change should be gradual but appropriate legislation should start now. "We recognize that under a move to grams and centimeters, a large proportion of familiar objects —nuts, bolts, packing cases — would have to be rescaled. Many industries would face a 10-year parts problem," he noted.

However, he said under present condtions the U. S. builds weapons systems for which spare parts cannot be found in the countries where they are often intended to be used. The nation seeks to establish a close-knit group of allies and to back them up with equipment.

"Yet, trying to match unmatchable parts in a local combat situation with no local source of supply will be madly and dangerously frustrating," Murphy warned.

Continued use of present measurements, he added, "can directly affect the standards of living of all Americans." He called the English system of measurements "a crippling sales obstacle" to the U.S. firms seeking to sell in the world market.

Loss of sales in foreign markets, the Lockheed official said, will affect the U.S. balance of payments and, as a result, raise the price of many commodities to U.S. consumers.

"Nations with vigorous economies, like Japan and Germany and even Czechoslovakia and Russia, aren't exactly nagging us to change our measurements system," Murphy said.

He pointed out that the fact that locally made parts in most countries won't fit U.S.-made products will undoubtedly cause this nation to lose much business.

Japan and India, he added, have recently adopted the metric system, which leaves the U.S. and Great Britain and most of its commonwealth "standing alone" with the old system.

Corte Madera 'Carnaval' Opens Tomorrow Night

Also included will be Izabel Myers, a pantominist formerly of Hollywood, now of San Francisco; Bobbie Moore, director of the Junior Dance Leagues of Marin City, and friends, wives and members of the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Quartet Final Concert Will Be Sunday

The Marin Arts Quartet will close its 1962 season Sunday with the third concert in its fifth annual series held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley.

Those attending the concert, which starts at 3 p.m., will find an atmosphere of relaxation and informality suitable to an afternoon of chamber music, and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Members of the quartet are familiar to local music lovers through many performances in Marin County and have appeared in concerts throughout the Bay Area.

They are Charles Meacham, first violin; Everett O'Bannon, second violin; Elizabeth Bell, viola; and Jean Mattos Maguire, cello. All except Mrs. Bell are members of the San Francisco Symphony and reside in Marin County.

For their program Sunday the quartet will play Mozart's C Major Quartet K.465, known as "the dissonant quartet"; Bartok's Quartet No. 1, Op. 7; and Franck's Quartet in D Major.

Seminars will be carried out. More than 1,000 books, journals, papers and microfilmed materials have been acquired as basis of a library.

An annual seminar featuring distinguished scholars will be a major activity. This year's seminar will be on the theme "The Church and Social Conflict" from April 2 with weekly sessions through June 4.

Among participating scholars will be:

DR. MARTIN E. MARTY, associate editor of the Christian Century, April 2 on "The Nature and Consequences of Social Conflict for Religious Groups."

DR. ROBERT A. NISBET, vice chancellor of the University of California (Riverside), April 9 on "The Impact of Modern Technology Upon Ethical Decision Making."

DR. JOHN R. BODO, professor of Practical Theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, April 16 on "Social Conflicts in the Prophetic Role of the Pastor."

RALPH LORD ROY, lecturer in Philosophy and Religion, Mills College of Education, also April 16 on "Discord From Right and Left-Wing Religio-Political Groups."

DR. SEYMOUR M. LIPSET, professor of Sociology, University of California (Berkeley), May 7 on "Protestants and Political Power."

DR. CHARLES Y. GLOCK, professor of Sociology, University of California (Berkeley), May 14 on "Class Conflict and Religious Groups."

DR. CHARLES McCOY, professor of Religion in Higher Education, Pacific School of Religion, May 21 on "Protest Movements for Racial Justice."

Entries Coming From All Over State For Horse Show Sunday

Entries are coming in from all over Northern California for the Blue Ribbon Horse Show to be held Sunday at the Circle V Ranch just outside Fairfax by the Four M Women's Mounted Patrol of Marin. Mrs. Oliver Mauch, captain, reported today.

Beginning at 9 a.m. the show will be held in the indoor ring and run through the entire day. The Marin Sheriff's posse will direct parking and Dick Argento of the posse will head the ring crew. He will be assisted by Ernie Tanxi, Orville Peterson and Neil Cullins.

Judging the events will be Maria Silva. Ring steward will be Neil Cullins. Merle Bullard will be show announcer. Mrs. William McCall is overall show chairman, assisted by Nona Carey. Printing and programs were handled by Carol Rourke.

There will be no admission charge to the public and food and refreshments will be served all day, Mrs. Mauch said.

Post entries will be accepted. The events will begin with open trail horse and conclude with stock horse (open) dry work only.

Trophies will be awarded to first place winners and ribbons through sixth place.

The event will be the second annual blue ribbon show sponsored by the Four M's and classes will be handled and judged under the rules of the California State Horsemen's Assn., she said.

Winners in the show will be eligible to compete in other blue ribbon shows and to enter the competitions held annually at the State Horsemen's Convention and Horse Show, which this year will be held at Santa Barbara.
